Aref, Armed Forces Take Iraq Control

Link With Syria Is Big Hope

Arab Republic Is To Be Recognized

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Abdel Salam Aref and the leaders of the Iraqi armed forces overthrew their country's Ba'ath Socialist government today and took control.

Aref in one of his early proclamations indicated that he hoped to revive the agreement to merge Iraq with Syria and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The president, an admirer of Nasser, said he would cooperate closely with all Arab nations, "especially with the United Arab Republic."

Assumes Full Powers

Aref, who has been Iraq's provisional president since the military ousted Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's dictatorship in February, assumed full powers as head of a new revolutionary council.

He ordered dissolution of the National Guard, a semi-military unit of Ba'ath Socialist party youths loyal to exiled Deputy Premier Ali Salameh El Saadi, leader of an extreme left faction of Ba'athists. All guardsmen were ordered to surrender their weapons to the armed forces. Those who refused were to be executed on the spot.

Baghdad Radio said the armed forces had captured National Guard headquarters and taken a number of guardsmen prisoner.

Some Resistance

The armed forces also were reported to have encountered some resistance in sections of Baghdad, but appeared to have full control by mid-morning. A general curfew proclaimed at 6:40 a.m. was eased to allow bakers and others in essential services to go to their jobs.

Aref said in a statement broadcast over Baghdad Radio that he was taking over full powers to safeguard the unity of the Iraqi people.

Iraq had been in the throes of a week-long internal power struggle between moderate and extremist factions of the Ba'ath party. Ba'athist leaders from Syria had gone to Iraq to help restore order.

Gives Pledge

Aref pledged that he would carry out "the brotherly obligations to our sister Arab states, especially Syria and the United Arab Republic. We say to our beloved sister, Syria, that we will always be with her. We will carry out our obligations toward her."

The United Arab Republic, Iraq and Syria agreed in April to join in a federation, but the Ba'athists in Syria and Iraq rejected domination by Nasser.

Misprint Stamp Assures Education For $10,400 Sum

NEW YORK (AP) — A college student has assured the financing of his education by selling 50 misprinted United Nations postage stamps for $10,400.

The unidentified Bronx youth purchased 50 of the misprints for $2 on the first day of their issue, Feb. 28, 1962. Several weeks ago, he sold them to wholesale stamp dealer Julius Stelow of J. & H. Stelow, Ind. for $208 each.

Stelow said Sunday the young man "knew right away what he had" when he returned home from the U.N. with the stamps. The misprinted stamps commemorate the U.N.'s housing and community facilities. But they are minus the black-imprinted words "Housing and community facilities" on the left side, then continued halfway across the top.

Also missing from the several color misprints are several areas of black shading on houses that make up most of the stamp's design.

H. Alexander Fraenkel, who publishes a journal for stamp dealers and collectors, said: "The misprint is the greatest error since the Dag Hammarskjöld (stamp) case."

Charge Youths With Downtown Burglaries

An alleged burglar, who, police said, was caught at gunpoint Sunday night at Yallum's clothing store, 12 Broadway, is also charged with having entered the Fowler & Keith hardware store, 20 East Strand early Saturday.

Elmore C. Yallum, of 79 Highland Avenue, secretary of M. Yallum Sons Inc., who was working at the store Sunday night, police said, was responsible for the catch. A 14-year-old juvenile also was reported involved.

Booked on third degree burglary charges for both alleged thefts, was William Pendell, 16, of 24 Abel Street. He was arrested by Officer George Dougherty, who held him at gunpoint in an alley at the rear of the Yallum store Sunday night, and officers Thomas Coffey and George Barringer. City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today adjourned hearing until Tuesday to permit Pendell time to obtain counsel. Bail fixed at $500 for the alleged Nov. 16 burglary, and $250 for that Nov. 17, was not immediately posted.

Police said they were notified at 8:15 p. m. Sunday by Yallum that someone had entered the rear of the store. The officers were dispatched there and Dougherty said he caught Pendell at the rear of the building.

Yallum said he had heard sounds of a window breaking followed by a second similar noise and then heard footsteps. He went to the front of the building and called police.

Police said some $40 worth of toys and Christmas decorations, which had been taken, were recovered.

Pendell, along with two brothers, one 14 and the other 15, are charged with having entered the Fowler & Keith building early Saturday morning. More than $70 in cash, several hunting knives, other knives, and power tools were reported taken there.

The juveniles involved in both alleged thefts were due to be petitioned to family court.

Detective Gurnsey Burger said that while questioning Pendell on the Yallum theft, he admitted that he and the two juveniles had committed the burglary on East Strand between 2 and 3 a. m. Saturday. Only part of the loot from that theft was recovered, Burger said.

Barghoorn Hopes for Quiet Now

Back Home Now Working on Book

By THOMAS M. STEWART

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — "I'm working on my book and I hope I'll have a period of quiet after this," says Frederick C. Barghoorn, home from the Soviet Union where he was jailed as a spy.

Arrested Oct. 31 on an espionage charge, the 52-year-old Yale professor was imprisoned in Moscow until Saturday.

Then the Soviet Union, citing the personal concern expressed by President Kennedy, announced it was expelling Barghoorn. He was hustled aboard an airliner and flown to London. Sunday a second flight carried him to New York and a chartered plane brought him to New Haven.

He was taken to the apartment of Mrs. Elizabeth Barghoorn, his 80-year-old mother. Barghoorn, a bachelor, lives next door.

Unpleasant Time

At a news conference Sunday night, Barghoorn read a statement about "my unpleasant experience."

He allowed only a few minutes of questions. He refused to answer, or replied cautiously, to questions about details of his arrest, confinement and release. He said he would withhold a number of details "until I have had an opportunity to fully acquaint myself with the views and information of the appropriate officials in Washington."

Goes Back to 1940

The Russians, Barghoorn said, accused him of gathering intelligence during his employment in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in the 1940s and on six trips he has made to the Soviet Union since 1947. Soviet studies are Barghoorn's specialty as a professor of political science. He has written several books on the Soviet Union and was gathering material for another when he was arrested.

The climate of suspicion in Russia is such, he said, that "one can be accused of conducting intelligence activity merely by walking down the street — especially if one has hostile intentions against the Soviet state; hostile, that is, in the opinion of the appropriate Soviet authorities."

Denies Any Basis

Barry Shift Is Needed: Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller does not represent a consensus of Republican thinking.

The New York governor, a declared candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, made that allegation Sunday on the CBS television program "Face the Nation" and again as he arrived in Washington Sunday night to buttonhole senators in a search for convention support.

The Republican platform in 1964 will represent "the mainstream of Republican thought," Rockefeller told newsmen at Washington National Airport. And then, carrying his theme out, he said he assumes Goldwater will "have shifted his position prior to the convention" in order to run on such a platform.

On the nationwide television interview, broadcast from St. Louis, Rockefeller made a similar pitch by saying Goldwater may have trouble explaining to the voters the switches he would have to make to win the nomination.

"The people are going to say just what are his positions and why did he vote against Eisenhower 48 per cent of the time when he (President Dwight D. Eisenhower) was in office," (Continued on Page 2, col. 3)

25 People Reported Missing

Flames Engulf 1st Building Quickly

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Fire swept through a block of hotels and rooming houses just off the Atlantic City Boardwalk today, leaving 25 persons unaccounted for.

Flames destroyed four hotels and a rooming house and fire roared out of control through two more buildings. Fire also spread to three other buildings but was quickly extinguished.

The missing were guests at the Surfside Hotel, where the fire broke out shortly after 4 a.m. The Surfside was a kosher establishment catering mainly to elderly Jews.

Engulfed in 5 Minutes

Milton Rauer, owner of the Surfside, said 20 of the guests were year-round residents of the hotel and another 10 were there on short vacations from New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

"I'm fearful to say a number did not escape," Rauer said. "It went so quickly. A number of them were mostly elderly persons." The building was engulfed in flames in about five minutes, he said.

Atlantic City Hospital said 22 persons were treated there, two of them admitted.

Front Blocked

"The night watchman smelled smoke and called me on the switchboard," Rauer said. "My first thought was to get my family out. I woke up my wife; she grabbed a dress, and then we woke up our three sons and my mother. We all jumped through a back window about 15 feet to the ground."

"In another minute or two the whole building would have collapsed on us."

Rauer said he had heard that about 12 of the guests escaped, but that he saw only four of them.

Mrs. Rauer said 30 guests were registered and all were in the building Sunday night, along with the Rauer family of six and the night watchman, Philip Johnson.

Call From Watchman

"We couldn't get out the front door. We got out through a window in our living quarters," Mrs. Rauer said.

The Rauer and Johnson got out uninjured.

Police said at least five of 30 guests at the Surfside got out of the building.

A heavy wind from the ocean fanned the flames from the Surfside to seven other buildings on either side of it along Maryland Avenue, which intersects the Boardwalk. Three more buildings on Virginia Avenue (Continued on Page 18, col. 7)

6 Men Booked Here, On Shooting Spree

Six young men on a reported Sunday night shooting rampage through the city in which a dog was allegedly killed and lights shattered, were booked on four charges each.

Police began trailing them after several calls starting at 6:40 p. m., from uptown areas, complained that guns or firecrackers were being discharged by occupants of two moving cars, and after a Doctor's ambulance effectively joined the chase.

List of Those Held

Held on two charges each of disorderly conduct, one of discharging a firearm in the city, and one dealing with killing an animal were:

Ronald Riggins, 21, of Codwise Street, Sunset Park.

Terry Curtis, 24, of 23 West Pierpont Street.

Uhlani Kaschel, 23, of 286 East Chester Street.

John Dunn, 22, of 4 Tietjen Avenue.

Jay Stanley, 23, of 1 Cottage Row.

Thomas Ashdown, 20, of 537 Albany Avenue Extension. Police said Ashdown claims he is under probation in the State of Florida.

The arrests were by Officers George Barringer, Thomas Coffey and Leon Fitzgerald with Officers Sheldon O'Rourke, Meyer Levy, Detectives Gurnsey Burger and Harold DeGruff, and Sgt. Julius Glassman assisting.

The six were held in the County Jail after bail of $1,500 each was not posted pending city court appearance today.

Ashdown, through his attorney Charles H. Gaffney today pleaded innocent, and the case was adjourned to Nov. 25 for all purposes. Bail was changed to $300 cash or $600 property on each charge. It was not immediately posted.

Hearing of the charges against Stanley and Dunn were put over to Tuesday to permit them time to obtain counsel. Bail of $20 cash or $400 property on each charge was not immediately posted.

Curtis was represented by Attorney Hubert A. Richter and hearing was put over to Nov. 25. Bail of $200 cash or $400 property on each charge was not immediately posted.

Kaschel was also represented by Richter, hearing was put over to Nov. 25 and the same amount of bail was posted.

Riggins said he is to be represented by Attorney Charles J. Saccoman. City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman disqualified himself (Continued on Page 2, col. 3)

Hearing Is Slated On Drivers and Daylight Saving

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Proposals to tighten controls on drinking drivers and to give an extra hour of daylight to support motorists will be under scrutiny Thursday at a legislative hearing.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety will conduct the hearing at Hofstra University, Hempstead.

The committee plans to seek comment on a modified version of its daylight-saving proposal, Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, said Sunday.

The revised bill provides for a nine-month plan. A measure for year-round daylight saving failed to clear committee during the 1963 legislative session.

Stresses Benefit

Speno contends that an extra hour of daylight in the late afternoon, when homeward-bound traffic is heavy, would help reduce the number of accidents. His proposal has drawn criticism from those who say that any such gain would be nullified by extending winter darkness into the morning, thereby endangering children en route to school.

Adjacent states would have to accept the plan before it could be put into operation in New York State, Speno said.

In another safety move, the committee wants to revise the present drinking-driver law now (Continued on Page 18, col. 8)

BOYS' CLUB EXPANDS — After 16 years of conducting activities in make-shift and rented quarters, Kingston Boys' Club Inc. now owns property for development and use by community's youth. Club's Board of Directors purchased property at 135-143 Greenkill Avenue, which includes a 100 by 30 foot two story structure located on a 145 foot by 100 foot plot of land, a portion of which is presently occupied by the club. On hand for presentation of check at purchase negotiations were, from left, J. William Robertson, club treasurer, who presented check to Nathaniel B. Gross, who represented Hudson

Counties Estates, seller; John Holochuck, Boys' Club executive director, and Terry Staples, club board member. Members who served on club's Building Committee included Dr. Harold Rakov, Herbert Shultz, Staples and Robertson. Property transaction was negotiated by Attorney Harry Gold, club's board member and legal adviser. Renovation of newly-acquired property from a Boys' Club facility of 1,000 square feet to 6,000 square feet, will be carried out in 1964. Local club is a service of Ulster County Community Chest. Two Burglaries Reported in Area Drug Store, Diner

The sheriff's department is investigating two burglaries which apparently took place over the week-end.

Van's Drug store, operated by John Van Tassel, located on Broadway, Port Ewen, was entered some time Saturday night and articles valued at approximately $500 were taken.

The premises were entered through a rear door and apparently the exit was made through the same way with the burglar going over properties to the rear to Salem Street. Cigarettes taken from the store were found on the second property at the rear and a waste-paper basket, apparently used to carry away the loot, was found on Salem Street.

Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Jack Seaholm, reported a quantity of watches, lighters, transistor radios, pipes, cigarettes and electric shavers were missing. The articles had just been received for the Christmas trade and were in Christmas boxes. The boxes were removed from the boxes, which were left on the floor.

130 Doctors, Nurses Hear Respiratory Discussions

More than 130 persons attended the first local Respiratory Disease Institute, Saturday at the Ulster County Community College.

Entitled, "Chronic Respiratory Disease," the institute was geared to attract physicians and county nurses as well as others interested in the problem, according to Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., president of the Ulster County TB & Health Association.

Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, chairman of the association's Respiratory Disease Committee, was institute chairman. He also served as moderator of the physician panel. Dr. Holcomb presided and presented medical comments on the film, "Emphysema," which was provided through the state TB and Respiratory Disease Association.

Welcoming remarks were given by Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of the Community College, and Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., president of the Medical Society of Ulster County. Institute speaker instructors included Dr. James H. Cullen, chief of medical service, Veterans Administration Hospital, Albany; Dr. David G. Simpson, physician in chest service, Bellevue Hospital, New York City; and Dr. Coleman B. Rabin, consultant physician for chest diseases, Mount Sinai Hospital, New York City.

E. Robert Johnson, executive director of the TB & Health Association, was Institute coordinator. His staff included Institute aids Mrs. Herbert F. Schwartz, Miss Katherine M. Murphy, Miss Almira A. Porter, Miss Mabel R. Robinson, Mrs. Henry C. Eichelmann and Mrs. Milton M. Grover, of the Medical (Continued on Page 2, col. 4)

Capitol News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

TROOP CUTBACK: Calling their present significance "not great" former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged a gradual cutback of U.S. ground troops in Europe that would eventually bring back five of six combat divisions home.

In an interview taped for Sunday's ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers," Eisenhower added that the situation has changed since 1956, when the United States started to build up its military strength in Europe.

"Economies (in Western Europe) are now strong, they have great balances, many of them, in gold and it is time they were doing more of their work," he added.

OTEPKA: The dismissal of State Department official Otto F. Otepka has brought a charge from Sen. Strom Thurmond that the former security officer was "railroaded with methods characteristic of a police state."

In his weekly newsletter to constituents Sunday, the South Carolina Democrat said Otepka was dismissed because he told the truth to a Senate subcommittee.

In announcing his dismissal, the State Department said Otepka gave classified personnel file material to a subcommittee investigator.

"By telling the truth to a Senator, 'Mr. Otepka put his honor and loyalty to his country above 'institutional loyalty'—that is loyalty to the State Department."

TO THE MOON: The Rev. Francis J. Heyden, S.J., director of Georgetown University's astronomical observatory, has assured continuation of the American effort to reach the moon.

In a statement Saturday, the noted Jesuit astronomer said that a successful trip would mean more than pay for itself by advancing scientific knowledge.

Will Give Out Stamps
BEDFORD, England (AP)—The Duke of Bedford announced today he will give trading stamps to winter visitors to Woburn Abbey, his stately home.

"They seem good for other people's businesses," said the Duke, "so why not for mine?"

The duke charges admission to the ancient house. Two years ago he installed juke boxes and slot machines.

Among other things, he is trying to pay off a $14-million death duty on the vast estate he inherited from his father.

Predicts 1965 Passage
NEW YORK (AP)—State Sen. Joseph Zaretzki, Democrat, minority leader, says off-track betting will not be legalized by the Legislature next year because of Gov. Rockefeller's presidential ambition.

But Zaretzki predicts the proposal will pass in 1965.

Kennedy Says He Is Not Out To Soak Rich

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Staff Writer
TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy, defending his administration against charges of anti-business bias, said today he is not out to "soak the rich."

The President said his policies are designed to promote "the steady progress of our entire society" and to bring about "prosperity in an age of peace and abundance."

In a major address prepared for the Florida Chamber of Commerce, Kennedy gave the most comprehensive reply yet to those who accuse the administration of being anti-business.

Kennedy flew to Tampa from Palm Beach aboard his jet transport, landing in bright, 80-degree weather at nearby MacDill Air Force Base. He was welcomed by Gen. Paul D. Adams, commander of the U.S. Strike Command.

Some 1,500 persons—Air Force and Army personnel and their families—watched the President review an honor guard. He walked over to the crowd and spoke for a moment to a group of parochial school children who were accompanied by a Catholic sister.

Kennedy then toured the headquarters of the multi-service Strike Command.

Killed When Auto Hits Utility Pole
FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Samuel B. Kirker, 70, of Gouverneur, N.Y., was killed Saturday when the automobile in which he was riding left U.S. Route 15, struck a utility pole and sideswiped another car.

His nephew, Charles W. McCracken, 45, also of Gouverneur, suffered cuts and bruises. Occupants of the other car escaped serious injury.

Burma Rounds Up 435 Leading Reds
RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burma's military government has rounded up 435 leading Communists.

The roundup began Friday after the breakdown of peace talks between the Communists and Gen. Ne Win's government. About 8,000 Communists have been waging civil war since Burma became independent 15 years ago.

Bible Background
NEW YORK (AP)—What was Ur like when Abraham and Sarah lived there? What circumstances were behind the Biblical stories of Moses, Joseph, the Queen of Sheba? Exploring these background facts is the subject of a new book, "The Background of the Old Testament" (Doubleday), including maps, drawings and photographs.

Goldwater served Saturday as best man at the wedding of an old friend, Lyle O. Snader, president of Capitol Hill's Quorum Club, while leaders of the drive to make Goldwater the Presidential nominee met to plan strategy.

Peter O'Donnell Jr., Republican state chairman of Texas and head of the national draft Goldwater organization, said he thinks at least 500 convention votes already are in the Goldwater column. Nomination will require 655.

On the Democratic side of the political fence, President Kennedy embarks today from Palm Beach, Fla., on a five-day speech tour into Tampa and Miami, seeking to swing Florida into the Democratic column next year. His aim will be to keep Texas there when he launches a three-day swing of the state Thursday.

Both trips are labeled "non-political" by the White House, but the heavy speaking schedule leaves little doubt that the 1964 election is much in his mind.

Fatum Ambulance Is In Ga. for Mrs. Storms

Mrs. Fred Storms of 87 Stephan Street was injured in a fall at Statesboro, Ga., recently, will be returned home later this week by Fatum's Ambulance Service.

Frank Fatum said an ambulance in charge of Wilbur Matthews and Roy T. Brean left here this morning accompanied by Mrs. Storms' husband, a county highway department employee.

Fatum said the trip will cover about 900 miles one way and Mrs. Storms is expected here late Thursday night.

According to Fatum Mrs. Storms and her husband were returning from a trip to Florida and as they were entering a motel, Mrs. Storms fell on a sidewalk and suffered a fractured hip. She was taken to a hospital in a Statesboro suburb.

6 Men Booked
and set the case down for Wednesday to be heard by Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr. Bail was fixed the same as for four of the others, and $200 cash on each charge was posted.

Ambulance Crew Helps
Most effective in aiding police to close in on the two cars were Gilbert Gray, proprietor of Doctors' Ambulance, his ambulance assistant, James Sills, of 159 Smith Avenue, and his office dispatcher, George Doherty, of Hurley, former Kingston patrolman.

Gray, a former policeman, and ex-Marine, said two shotguns were discharged from the cars near the ambulance service office, 77 Greenkill Avenue, as he was headed for his evening meal.

He and Sills pursued the cars in an ambulance, and through its radio and the office dispatcher kept contact with police headquarters and patrol cars.

The two cars were apprehended on the Flatbush Road a short distance out of the city by police patrol cars and one of the state police manned by troopers Robert Houghtaling and Fred Cooper.

Say 20 Shots Fired
Police claim that some 20 shots had been fired from the cars, that a female Collier dog owned by Burton Shoemaker, of 20 Dummaman Avenue, had been shot and killed, that a traffic light at Pearl Street and Washington Avenue, and a street light at Mountain View Avenue and Lounsbury Place, were shattered with a shot, a check is being made to determine if lights of Hurley, Washington, Greenkill and Dummaman Avenues, and Marius Street, had also been damaged by shot.

Detective Burger said he was told that the six had been hunting during the day. There was no indication, he said, that they had been affected by drink.

Police received first complaints of the shooting from Washington, Lucas and Dummaman Avenues and Miller's Lane, and in the midst of them were told that a Doctor's ambulance was riding near the two cars on Greenkill Avenue as they were headed towards Broadway. All patrol cars were dispatched on the chase and state police were notified.

Detective Burger said a leg and shoulder of Shoemaker's dog had been shattered. The dog died near the home of Richard Roth, 15 Dummaman Avenue.

Burger said two local patrol cars and a state police car closed in on the sedan and convertible, in which the group rode, as it was headed out the Flatbush Road. It was stopped about a quarter of a mile beyond the city line.

Detectives worked through the night compiling information and statements pertinent to the arrests.

Col. Arden Freer, Retired US Army Physician, Dead

Colonel Arden Freer, 74, a retired Army physician and native of Neversink, died Oct. 31 at Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., according to word received today. He died of a brain tumor.

Col. Freer was a brother of Mrs. George Edwards, this city, and an uncle of Mrs. Booth Pendell, also of Kingston. He had served at Walter Reed Hospital on three occasions during his illustrious 32-year military medical career.

Col. Freer earned his medical degree in 1913 at New York University College of Medicine. After two years' post-graduate training at Bellevue Hospital, New York City, he entered the Army in 1915 as a first lieutenant, serving as a regimental surgeon and later as assistant director of a hospital train in France during World War I.

From 1920 to 1924 he was section chief in the Medical Service at Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, Colo., and for the next three years, he was chief of the out-patient clinic at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

Col. Freer's first duty at Walter Reed came in 1927, when he was named section chief in the Medical Service, a post he held until 1931. He then went to Letterman Army Hospital, San Francisco, Calif., in the same capacity. In 1935, he began a three-year duty tour as assistant chief of the Medical Service at Gorgas Army Hospital in Panama, returning to Walter Reed in 1937 for assignment as section chief in the Medical Service.

From 1939 to 1942, Col. Freer held the dual positions of chief of the Medical Service at Walter Reed Hospital and director of the Department of Internal Medicine at the research institute, now known as the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research.

Col. Freer's last military assignment began in 1942, in the office of the Army Surgeon General, where he was chief of the Professional Administrative Services. He retired from active duty in May, 1947.

On Hoover Commission
Upon retirement from military life, he was appointed deputy medical director of the Veterans' Administration in Washington, a post he held until 1952. For the next two years he served on the Hoover Commission, and in 1955 was named director of Medical Service at the San Antonio, Texas, State Tuberculosis Hospital.

In 1960, Col. Freer and Mrs. Freer moved to their home at 2631 Bennington Road, Fayetteville, N. C. For the past three years, he was a member of the advisory editorial board of the Army Medical Service's historical unit working on materials for a volume of the history of physical standards of the Army Medical Department during World War II.

Among his awards were the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit, Army Commendation Medal, Mexican Border Service Medal and World War I Victory Medal.

He was a member of the American Medical Association, American College of Physicians, and the American Board of Internal Medicine. He was a member of Monega Lodge, A. and F. M.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Mary Helen Freer of Fayetteville, he is survived by two sons, Arden S. Freer of Durham, N. C., and Commander Charles H. Freer, USN, of San Diego, Calif., and four grandchildren.

Charles E. and Jane Velle Freer, the oldest of eleven children, six sisters survive. Mrs. Addie LeRoy and Mrs. Joseph Raffa, both of Neversink; Mrs. George Edward of Kingston; Mrs. Beatrice Pomeroy of Liberty, Mrs. Donald Keil, recently of Cairo, N. Y., and Mrs. Paul Claude of Palm Springs, Calif.

Funeral services were held in Walter Reed Memorial Chapel, Monday, Nov. 4, followed by burial in Arlington National Cemetery.

and dropped Nasserites from their ruling councils. Nasser subsequently denounced the Ba'athists, especially those of Syria, and nothing came of the proposed federation.

Recently the Ba'athists in Iraq and Syria formed a united military command, began discussions of economic union and set political union as their ultimate goal.

Aref indicated that he wanted the Syrian-Iraqi military union to continue. He sent a message to the commander of the Syrian army brigade fighting Kurdish rebels in northern Iraq and assured the Syrian his brigade was "part of us."

Pull Three 'Boners' in 13 Months

Soviets' Erratic Behavior Cause for Embarrassment

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians, trying to be tough, have become a cause for worry in a way they never intended. They have created doubts about their judgment, even in their own interests.

In three separate episodes in the past 13 months they have tried to stiff-arm the United States in ways indicating they didn't think their actions through. In short, they have been erratic.

In two of these cases, by failing to anticipate the possible American reactions, they suffered international embarrassment. In the third neither the United States nor Russia came smelling like a rose.

The Soviets put missiles in Cuba, stopped American military trucks on the Autobahn in East Germany, and arrested Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, a 52-year-old expert on Soviet affairs who has made six trips to Russia.

Playing by Ear
Barghoorn, back home Sunday, put it this way to explain the unexplainable Russian performance in arresting him: "The Soviets 'will embark on a policy, more or less, feeling their way, even playing it by ear, so to speak.'"

This is a disturbing realization for in all three cases events could have taken a different turn with terrible consequences. The missile adventure or the blockade could have progressed into shooting and then into war. For instance: If President Kennedy, instead of telling Premier Khrushchev to yank his missiles out of Cuba or else, felt the missile danger was too immediate even for this short delay and ordered action at once against Cuba.

Or if, when the Russians blockaded the Autobahn because American troops refused to leave the trucks to be counted, Kennedy, fed up, sent tanks to smash the blockade, even if it meant a fiery showdown.

Khrushchev withdrew his missiles. It was an ignominious defeat. The Russians let the trucks through even though the Americans persisted in refusing to descend to be counted.

The Russians claimed they counted the troops anyway, when they got out to walk around. Nevertheless, they backed down from the principle of their demand. Kennedy, on the other hand, did nothing to break the blockade.

Neither side could claim any clear victory in this one except that the Russians had created an ugly situation, which could have become a dangerous one, and wound up being a nuisance.

But both situations create a basic question about their judgment: Why start something they weren't prepared to finish or without realizing, in the case of Cuba, they could suffer an almost disgusting defeat?

The best that can be said for them is that they acted impulsively, which is about the worst that can be said about a nation's handling of its foreign affairs.

But there's no reason to think there will not be some new and grotesque adventure tomorrow for, after the Autobahn incidents, the Russians arrested Barghoorn on a charge of spying. This seemed completely impulsive or stupid.

For this reason: On Saturday they turned him loose and sent him home after Kennedy publicly declared the professor was not a spy and indicated his detention might wreck the five-year-old American-Soviet cultural program.

If Barghoorn had been spying, and they had the goods on him, as they said they did, they could have achieved an international triumph by proving it publicly to make a liar of Kennedy.

The fact they freed the professor so quickly is good evidence they had nothing on him in the first place. Barghoorn denied he had spied.

Daughter Gets Job Sought by Mother

POPLAR RIDGE, N.Y. (AP) — Post office is a serious business and not a kissing game to young and pretty Mary Lou McCann.

The 21-year-old miss beat out her mother for the job of postmistress of this Finger Lakes hamlet, and her nomination by President Kennedy was confirmed Thursday by the Senate.

Mom says she doesn't mind in the least that her daughter got the job.

"It's all in the family," Mrs. Florence McCann observed. She had been acting postmistress for two years until succeeded by her daughter.

George McCann, the head of the family, is employed in a drop-forge plant at Auburn.

Mother and daughter took the same Civil Service examination this year. Mary Lou passed, but her mother failed.

Asked how she felt about winning her mother's job, the young postmistress said: "Well, my mother didn't pass the exam, and I knew she didn't have a chance."

Miss McCann is the entire postal staff in this community of about 150 inhabitants. The post office is in a public library.

The second act in the drama has its humorous aspects, too. Wrecking crew laborers watched the first act from box seats high on a nearby building, then got into the show by appropriating the stolen jewels themselves. But amusement sours as one considers the attitude of these men. They were workers, not criminals — yet when the chance came they grabbed what was not theirs. The temptation was great, true. But this ready seizure of opportunity to commit high crime is not at all an amusing commentary on the materialism that calls the turn so often in our society.

THE RIGHT WAY: When something is done "according to Hoyle," it is done exactly right. Hoyle today is a book of rules for all card games. Originally, though, Edmund Hoyle wrote a book on the rules of the game of Whist (the only game the author ever played). In 1897 Robert Foster wrote a complete book of card rules and called it "Foster's Hoyle" to capitalize on the prominence Hoyle had earned.

AFL - CIO Takes Up Civil Rights, JFK Not Satisfying

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO convention takes up the civil rights issue today, amid expression of dissatisfaction with President Kennedy's legislation on the subject.

A. Philip Randolph, only Negro vice president of the labor organization, said he is not satisfied with Kennedy or the AFL-CIO in pressing for equal rights for Negroes. He warned of a possible "nationwide, bloody race war" in the United States.

Another AFL-CIO vice president, James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said his union would give strong support to two resolutions by Randolph aimed at discouraging racial discrimination.

AFL-CIO President George Meany appointed a special task force to deal with the civil rights issue at the biennial convention.

Carey said in an interview the AFL-CIO should give "active, affirmative support for legislation now being held up in the house rules committee."

He said this bill, drafted by the House Judiciary Committee, is "better than the President's bill."

Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, told a reporter his aim in bringing the civil rights issue before 1,000 delegates representing 13.5 million AFL-CIO union members was to "mobilize public sentiment" for action.

Carey said the purpose was to pressure Congress to pass a civil rights bill, by showing that the labor federation strongly favors it.

3 Young Girls Die in Flames

FILLMORE, N.Y. (AP) — Three young girls perished today, despite rescue attempts, in a fire that leveled a farm home near this Allegany County community.

Police said 12-year-old Constance Cleveland and Veronica Cleveland, 10, who are sisters, and their aunt 14-year-old Priscilla Cleveland were trapped in a second floor bedroom.

Constance and Veronica were granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleveland, whose home was destroyed by the fire. Priscilla was the Cleveland's daughter, police said.

Charles Cleveland, who with his wife and 16-year-old son, Paul, slept on the first floor, was awakened by the smell of smoke. He tried to climb stairs to the second floor to reach the sleeping girls, but was driven back by heavy smoke and intense heat.

He telephoned for help, and ushered his wife and son safely from the burning home.

He placed a ladder against the outside of the house and climbed to a second floor window, but was again driven back by smoke and flame.

Police said cause of the fire in the one-and-a-half story frame home was undetermined.

Port Ewen Building Damaged by Fire

A two-story brick building, formerly occupied by St. Anne's Convent at Port Ewen, was extensively damaged by fire Saturday.

Port Ewen firemen in command of Chief Edward Mains battled the flames that raced through the kitchen area and burned up through partitions to the attic.

Chief Mains said the property is owned by Ralph Hutton Jr., and is located at Minturn and East Stout Avenues. Hutton, his wife and two children, were reportedly not home at the time the fire occurred.

Firemen reported they had to rip holes in the walls to reach the flames with hoses. The origin of the blaze was not immediately determined. Assisting Chief Mains at the fire scene for more than two hours were Deputy Chiefs James Ellsworth Jr., Harold Losee and W. S. Clark, it was reported.

Motorist Faces Charges Following Mishap

A 24-year-old motorist was charged with operating an unregistered motor vehicle and driving without insurance, after an accident at 5:30 a. m. Sunday on Route 32 about three miles west of the Kingston City line.

Trooper John Kohland of the Kingston sub-station, reported E. A. Stoutenburgh, of Box 104, Accord, was driving east along the highway when he apparently fell asleep. The car left the highway and hit a tree.

The summonses are returnable at a later date before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly, Town of Ulster.

Check Quake Experiment

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese seismologists today conducted an artificial earthquake experiment in hopes that it would help them forecast future quakes. First reports indicated the experiment was a success.

Tokyo university's earthquake research institute said the tremor was created by detonating two tons of dynamite underground in an abandoned uranium pit in the coastal city of Kurayoshi 350 miles south of Tokyo.

The experiment was aimed at studying the earth's crust and tremor waves.

Killed in Collision

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP)—Ronald Walters, 31, of Bradford, was killed Saturday when his automobile and another car collided on Route 219 in this city near the New York-Pennsylvania line.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The more the economy flexes its muscles the more controversial becomes the subject of jobs. This is a present day switch from the traditional linking of good times with lots of jobs. Just now it doesn't seem to work that way. The paradox: employment climbs to a record, but the clamor over lack of jobs grows. And labor prepares to make this a prime issue in next year's contract negotiations.

Attacks Automation
President Kennedy tells the AFL-CIO leaders that the cure for today's ills lies in cutting taxes to create jobs by increasing demand for goods and funds for investment.

The labor organization's president, George Meany, tells the same convention that automation is a curse that "could bring us to a national catastrophe" and implies that tax cut benefits are too delayed and even too unproved to be relied upon. Management insists that automation will make more jobs in the long run, just as previous phases of mechanization did.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York takes the middle ground that automation is a mixed blessing — bringing both good and bad.

CR Emphasis Shifts

Unions seek shorter weeks to spread the work. Management stresses greater unit production to hold down labor costs — and thereby, union critics say, cutting job opportunity still further. Civil rights emphasis switches from the desegregation of lunch counters to more jobs for racial minorities. The job issue becomes more critical even than the makeup of school enrollment.

Social scientists stress that juvenile delinquency and school dropouts are linked and that both are part of the over-all job problem. They see as the basic trouble the drop in demand for the unskilled and the emphasis on the highly trained.

And at the other end of the age scale, the cutoff age for getting a new job seems to drop each year. Older citizens grow bitter about it — even as life expectancy lengthens and the number of older, and unemployed, Americans multiplies.

At the same time there are jobs going begging, mostly those calling for more skill and training than the average citizen has, but also those in lines of work that are unattractive for various reasons.

And the changing job picture has still other sides. Production workers totals are slow to expand, but paper-work employees multiply on many payrolls. And the service industries grow both in size and variety.

Bible-Reading March

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Protesting rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court barring prescribed Bible reading and prayer in public schools, the southern New England youth organization of the Assemblies of God plan a march by 1000 youths on the state capitol here Nov. 30, under the theme, "Save the Bible—Save our Nation."

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Double feature today: "Cleo's Biz" and "Booze at the Legit"—

The long gamble on "Cleopatra" might pay off. At least that is the rosy picture painted by the money watchers at 20th Century-Fox.

Every amateur financier knows the figures concerning "Cleopatra"—how it cost a cool $40 million and needs to take in $60 million to break even — the cost of advertising, distribution, etc., adds to the total.

The spectacle has been in release less than six months and is playing only 50 cities in the United States and Canada and 21 in Europe. So it is too early to make firm predictions. But Fox reports "Cleopatra" is running 18 per cent ahead of the previous record moneymaker in comparable situations.

The company avoided mention of the previous winner, but it is safe to report that it was "Ben Hur" which drew $65 million. Thus if Fox's figures and hopes remain accurate, "Cleopatra" could eventually turn a profit.

By next march Fox plans to have the epic playing in 135 theaters in every major city of the free world. It has opened and closed in a few less sizable U.S. cities, but appears to be holding strong in most metropolises.

It is expected to play to the end of 1964 in New York and Los Angeles.

Fox executives are gleeful drew as much in 14 weeks at the Dominion in London as "South Pacific" did in 46 weeks. A single ad in Stockholm sold out the theater for the first week. Helsinki reports that Russians are traveling from Leningrad to see the capitalist movie.

Broadway's producers and theater owners recently banded together to ask the state of New York for permission to open bars for patrons of plays. They argued that serving liquor inside the playhouses would be a convenience for theatergoers and a financial prop for business.

One of Those Days

MIAMI (AP) — Tom Myers' shopping center department store had booming business the other day as a result of a series of incidents which brought attention to the store. Myers said he could have done without them.

They included: a boy running through a glass door, police arriving when a shoplifter got away, capture of a second shoplifter, and finally, arrival of fire-fighting units because of a haze which filled the store. They found the haze caused by hot moist air entering the building and mixing with the dry air conditioned air.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I dedicate this column, to all my readers who have left this section of Ulster County to go south, or to California. It is difficult to believe that today is Oct. 27, 1963 and the temperature is 72 degrees outdoors where I am now typing. In the sun it is warmer, and the local radio station announced it was 78 or so degrees. All the little home gardens seem to be thriving with marigolds. It is said we have had some 24 or 25 days of warm, dry, sunny weather, which has mixed up all the plants and trees.

I watched a monarch butterfly, in its rich brown, black and white attire go from marigold to marigold, with a bee following, as though they were shopping for the best bargains. At least their food is not cello wrapped, or frozen. Now I can see, how John Burroughs enjoyed his "Slabsides" at West Park in such weather.

I have his little book "Wake—Robin" published back around 1871, my copy is 1901. This book was "mainly about the birds, or more properly an invitation to the study of Ornithology." On page 95, he writes about hearing a "dull hammering" and he said to himself "some one is building a house." It turned out to be a "red-headed woodpecker" and he moved cautiously in the direction, and "perceived a round hole, the size of that made by an inch-and-a-half auger near the top of a decayed trunk, and the white chips of the workman strewing the ground beneath." It just so happens when I visited "Slabsides" two weeks ago, his granddaughter, Elizabeth Burroughs Kelley and Henry Dunbar noticed the woodpecker's art in a beam on the "Slabsides" porch.

It seems strange to me now, when I think that "Slabsides" withstood time, and weather, and along comes a foolish woodpecker, and of all places decides to make little round holes in a building of a man, who was a friend to all living things, especially birds. This is what John Burroughs wrote about woodpeckers in part: "The woodpeckers all build in about the same manner, excavating the trunk or branch of a decayed tree and depositing the eggs on the fine fragments of wood at the bottom of the cavity. Though the nest is not especially an artistic work, requiring strength rather than skill, yet the eggs and the young of few other birds are so completely housed from the elements, or protected from their natural enemies, the jays, crows, hawks, and owls. A tree with a natural cavity is never selected, but one which has been dead just long enough to have become soft and brittle throughout. The bird goes in horizontally for a few inches, making a hole perfectly round and smooth and adapted to his size, then turns downward, gradually enlarging the hole, as he proceeds, to the depth of 10, 15 or 20 inches, according to the softness of the tree and the urgency of the mother bird to deposit her eggs. While excavating, male and female work alternately."

Mr. Burroughs wrote further about his interesting little bird family. "After one bird has been engaged 15 or 20 minutes, drilling and carrying out chips, it ascends to an upper limb, utters a loud call or two, when its mate soon appears, and alighting near it on the branch, the pair chatter and caress a moment, then the fresh one enters to work and the other flies away."

Basutoland has one mile of railway, 560 miles of gravel roads, two airfields and some 1,600 miles of government-maintained paths that link scattered villages.

Ulster Allotted Per Capita Aid Totalling $133,821

Ulster County towns, villages and the City of Kingston have been allotted a total of $133,821.63 as their share in the distribution of $11,508,844.70 as per capita assistance to the political subdivisions of the state, it was announced today by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

This payment is the third quarterly installment in the state's 1963-64 fiscal year. The checks were mailed to the fiscal officers of the state's 61 cities, 550 villages and 932 towns. Unlike other types of state aid, which are granted for a specific purpose (such as education, highways and health) the per capita aid can be used for any general purpose.

This payment is allocated to the local units of governments on a per capita basis. Each city receives annually the sum of $6.75 times the amount of its population, towns receive $3.55 for each inhabitant, and villages $3.00 for each inhabitant.

Insurance Firm Vets to Attend Annual Session

Eight representatives from the Kingston district office of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., 280 Wall Street, are scheduled to attend the annual business meeting and luncheon of the Albany Chapter of the company's Veterans Association at the Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel, Albany, Thursday, Nov. 21.

Membership of the association is made up of persons employed by the Metropolitan for at least 20 years. Approximately 125 members from the district offices in Eastern New York are expected to attend the event.

Joseph Baynes, manager of the Mohawk district in Schenectady and president of the chapter, will preside. Speakers will include Earl B. Van Zandt of Boston, representing the company's 13,500 district office veterans in the United States and Canada, and Forest R. Rogers, regional manager of the Albany office.

Attending from Kingston will be Francis A. Dolan, 58 Elizabeth Street, Thomas M. Davitt of 25 Charlotte Street, Paul F. Hyatt of 10 Conway Place, and Martha Showers of 141 St. James Street. Retired agents attending will include: Benjamin Sherman of 71 Madison Avenue, city; James Dolan, 50 Madison Street, Cossack; Silas Beatty, 26 Elm Street, Saugerties; and Ellsworth "Rusty" Winchell, Star Route, Ravena.

Today in History

Your friendly neighborhood Shop-Rite market is proud to bring you these famous Shop-Rite turkeys... just wait till you see this fine addition to the proud Shop-Rite family... broad breasted, fairly popping with tender, solid white meat, and they're fresh frozen, ready for the oven. So easy to prepare, too. Just thaw, stuff and season. The giblets are tucked away inside for use in the dressing and gravy... the legs are tucked so no skewers are needed, and the majority of leg tendons are removed. But the real proof is in the eating... and when you serve a Shop-Rite brand turkey, there will be smiles of pure satisfaction around your table as teeth sink into the finest, tenderest, most flavorful turkey you've ever cooked.

Only a Few Minutes from Wherever You Live

The View From Asia — U. S. Image

Americans Well Liked But Suffer From Integration Problems at Home

EDITOR'S NOTE — What is the image of the United States in Asia? Where does America stand in the eyes and minds of people in the teeming lands of the East? AP Special Correspondent William L. Ryan has just completed a six-week swing through seven Asian nations, interviewing high officials and the man in the street. This dispatch, first of a series of three, reports his findings as they concern the position of the United States.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

TOKYO (AP) — The Indian politician stopped suddenly in the midst of a torrent of complaints about Americans, as if rocked by a sudden idea.

He fixed me with a puzzled stare, then punched a finger into my chest.

"Why," he demanded, "can't you Americans be more mature and rotten, like the British?"

He has been bemoaning American "imperialism," alleged American bungling in Asia, and the behavior of Americans at home, especially with regard to the Negro problem.

Best Liked, Least Respected

One got the impression that deep down, he really missed the British "imperialists" who, to him, were mature enough to set matters right without apology or timidity, and rotten enough in the old days not to care too much about how they did it.

The American image in Asia has been badly damaged by U.S. integration troubles. But it suffers in other ways, too. The United States often is in the position of being the best liked and least respected of the big powers.

Asia is a continent of boiling contradictions. What the United States does for one country can outrage another. What Americans do at home can puzzle and confuse Asian intellectuals who may have viewed the United States as an example and a hope for their own future.

What is the U.S. image in Asia? It is many images, good and bad. The bad are more important so far as American goals are concerned.

Admiration, Too

Generally, Americans are well liked and the United States is admired. But these things must be qualified.

To Asian intellectuals, the United States is an enormously powerful nation with an awesome arsenal of weapons. It has achieved great things at home.

The young intellectual has a feeling of disappointment, even disillusion and outrage, when he believes that the United States has bungled in the content or tarnished itself at home.

The United States is watched the way a teen-ager might watch a movie idol—jealously, critically.

Everywhere I went in Asia I was questioned about Negroes in the United States.

In one capital, a high-ranking government official told me, not bitterly but in wonder, how he was refused service in a Washington restaurant.

A Vietnamese said, "President Diem treated our Buddhists badly. But have you treated your Negroes any better?"

Still Seek Solution

The only answer one can give is that the U.S. government is trying to do something about it. The answer is inadequate. The question comes back, "But what makes Americans that way?"

In India, samplings indicate that the United States is by far the most liked of the world's developed nations. In Thailand, the people seem to get along famously with everyday Americans, even though Thailand's government sometimes seems annoyed with Washington.

In Pakistan, whose government has been engaged in applying pinpricks to the U.S. hide, anti-Americanism can be whipped up fairly easily by a controlled press. It is not real. It is a maneuver of Pakistan's military ruler, angered by U.S. arms aid to India, and play on nationalist feelings and Pakistani terror of India.

There remains much that Asians criticize. They tell you they are bewildered by the prospect of American policy shifting from month to month — now calling for democracy, now backing a harsh military dictator.

The most frequent complaint about the United States from Asians is this:

"You just don't understand us."

Next: The Soviet image in Asia.

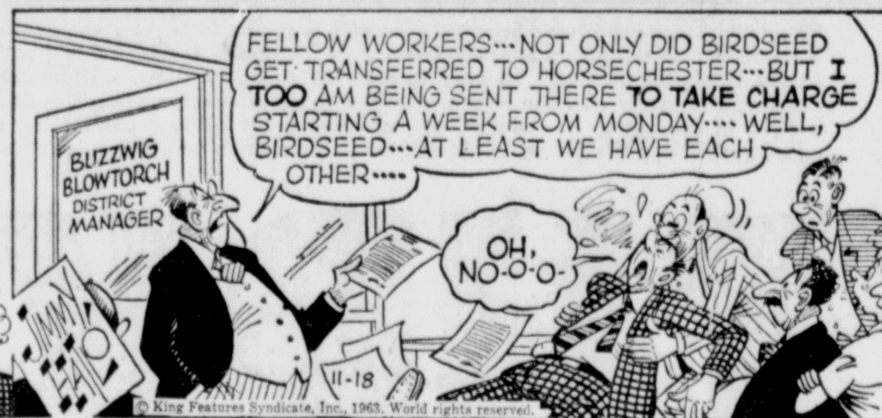

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower entered the U. S. Military Academy in 1911 as a cadet appointee of Sen. Joseph Little Bristow of Kansas. He was graduated June 12, 1915, and commissioned a second lieutenant in the Infantry.

Congress Studies $19 Billion to Spend This Week

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appropriations bills move to center stage in Congress this week, with more than $19 billion of the taxpayers' cash involved.

While the Senate and House consider measures to pay for military construction, public works and a variety of government agencies, some interesting side attractions are scheduled in committees.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee resumes its probe of the controversial TFX warplane contract and the Senate Finance Committee takes up a House-passed bill to raise the temporary debt ceiling to $315 billion.

Separate House hearings look into the recent trip to Cuba by U.S. students, medical care for the elderly and the government's vast research programs. The House starts its week by considering today a bill calling for $1,562,964,000 in appropriations for military construction programs.

On Tuesday's House docket is $4,276,116,400 measure to foot the bill for federal public works programs.

Neither measure has been acted on by the Senate.

Scheduled for consideration in the Senate this week are House-passed bills to appropriate some $14 billion for more than a score of independent government agencies, the District of Columbia government and Congress itself.

The sudden spurt of appropriations activity is part of a drive to clear the decks of all money bills in the hope that Congress might be able to adjourn before Christmas.

That hope was brightened when it became apparent that the Senate would not act this year on a House-passed major tax bill and that the House itself might not act on the administration's civil rights measure.

Mario Jeli, the noted linguist, calls Swahili "the worthiest and most dignified of all African Negro tongues." He recommends it as a national language for African nations south of the Sahara.

Deaths

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Dr. Harrison H. Shoulders Sr., 77, president of the American Medical Association in 1946-47, died Sunday after being stricken with a heart attack.

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Henry P. Williams, 80, mother of G. Mennen Williams, six times governor of Michigan, and an heiress to the Mennen toiletries fortune, died Saturday of heart failure.

Mrs. Williams, a daughter of the founder of the Mennen Co. of Newark, N.J., married Henry P. Williams, a leading Detroit civic and business figure in 1909. He died in 1941. She was born in Newark.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Newton Arthur Clark, 63, retired Miami police captain, who captured a would-be assassin of Franklin D. Roosevelt, died Saturday. Clark seized Giuseppe Zangara seconds after the gunman fatally shot Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, who was standing near Roosevelt on a Miami visit Feb. 15, 1933, shortly before Roosevelt was inaugurated for his first presidential term. Clark, who retired in 1956, was born in St. Louis.

Ulster Farmers Will Elect ASC Community Unit Nov. 22

Farmers of Ulster County are being urged to take part in the election of their local ASC Community Committee, which is scheduled for Nov. 22. Ballots will be tabulated publicly by ASC County Committee at the county office.

An announcement by E. M. Wood, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Ulster County Committee chairman, points out that this annual election is one in which all eligible farmers should feel a duty to participate.

The ASC Community Committee to be elected consists of three regular members and two alternates. The chairman, vice-chairman, and regular member of the elected committee will serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate and second alternate delegate to the county convention where the ASC County Committee will be chosen.

A person may vote in the community election who is of legal voting age, who has an interest in a farm as an owner, or tenant, and who is taking part or is eligible to take part in one of the farm programs administered by the committee. Also, a person not of legal voting age, but who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on an entire farm, is eligible to vote. In the case of joint ownership by two or more individuals, each is eligible to vote.

Each voter is entitled to only one vote on any one ballot. In the case of partnership farms, the vote may be cast by either partner, and a corporation's vote may be cast by any authorized officer of the corporation.

Because of the vital part that the ASC community and county committees play in the farming affairs of the county, it is important that each farmer give serious consideration to the men elected to these posts.

All information concerning the election, may be obtained by contacting the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service County Officer.

Ballots were mailed to all farmers in the county and must be returned postmarked no later than Nov. 22.

Syracuse Mayor Upset By 97 CR Dismissals

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Syracuse Mayor William F. Walsh says he is "concerned and disappointed" by the action of an assistant district attorney who moved successfully to dismiss charges against 97 civil rights demonstrators arrested in September.

Walsh, a Republican, voiced criticism Saturday of the action taken by J. Richard Sardino, assistant district attorney of Onondaga County.

Sardino, a Democrat, moved Friday for dismissal of charges against all but one of 98 persons arrested during the racial demonstrations at an urban renewal construction site.

City Judge John T. Smith Jr., a Republican, dismissed the charges.

The charges against the 97 were, for the most part, trespassing, a misdemeanor. The demonstrations were aimed at erasing alleged discrimination in housing. Negroes complained that they have been unable to obtain new housing after being displaced by the renewal project.

The local branch of the Congress on Racial Equality conducted the demonstrations.

Destruction of Church Seen Step Forward

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Presbytery of Albany views the destruction of a Troy church as a step forward.

The presbytery voted Saturday to dissolve a Negro church and eliminate the last trace of segregation among its congregations in this northeastern New York area.

The church, Liberty Presbyterian in Troy, has been in existence for 122 years. The building is to be demolished for an urban renewal project and the congregation asked that it be dissolved.

Praises City Firemen

65 Flatbush Ave.
Kingston, N. Y.
Nov. 15, 1963

Editor, The Freeman:

Perhaps you will agree with this letter and find room to place it in your paper.

It seems to be one of our human failings to find fault quicker than to give credit where and when it is due.

This letter is to give credit to our city firemen.

On Nov. 7, 1963, at 3 a. m., we had a serious fire on Flatbush Avenue.

A call was placed to report a raging fire in a garage, and it was only a matter of minutes after the call was completed, that the first truck was at the scene.

We are all sure the fire fighters' quick response and fast action prevented a much more serious fire.

So let us appreciate the protection and assurance we get from men such as these being on the job, to protect our lives and property.

Sincerely,
ROBERT HOGAN

Furniture Man Dies

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Ralph W. Taylor Sr., founder and president of the furniture-making firm of Taylor-Jamestown Corp., died Sunday at Women's Christian Association Hospital. He was 80.

Taylor had been suffering from a heart condition.

After a tour of U. S. ports in 1931-34, Old Ironsides was returned to Boston.

Aquarium Group Takes Top Honors At Jersey Show

Three members of the Ulster Aquarium Society took honors in the Hudson-Bergen Aquarium Society seventh annual tropical fish exhibition at Union City, N. J. Sunday.

Jack Deyo was awarded first place in the Chilid class with his entries, a pair of Pelmatochromis Kribensis Boulenger. Dr. Henry C. Eichelman received second place in the open class Beta competition and Miss Diane Eichelman took third place with her Red Beta entry.

Among those from the local organization who attended the show were Mr. and Mrs. J. Mc-Dermott, Mr. and Mrs. James Gardiner Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Gardiner Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Deyo, Dr. and Mrs. Eichelman, Mrs. Lewis G. Naylor.

Also the Misses Donna and Diane Eichelman, Patricia Naylor and Kathy Andrews, Jim-

John Gardiner, Joseph Gardiner and James Barnett.

The next meeting of the organization will be held Tuesday 8 p. m. at the New York State Armory, Manor Avenue. Members hope to attend area exhibits at least once a month.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state's school boards were under orders today to get out of the insurance business and to refuse to handle further claims.

Ewald B. Nyquist, deputy state education commissioner, ruled Friday that an Upstate school district must sever its connection with an accident-insurance* program of a private company.

Stateside Ban

The decision reinforced the department's policy that school personnel and facilities may not be used to promote the sale of goods or services of private business.

His order was addressed to the Scotia - Glenville Central School District, comprising

The case was brought before Nyquist by Elias Shapnek, a Scotia attorney, who objected to his daughter's being threatened with detention after school for failing to return an insurance form.

Individual students were given literature soliciting insurance business and applications for policies to cover accidents. The pupils were told to return the application blanks whether or not they purchased a policy.

Could Waive Deadline
Another appeal decided Friday involved the failure of parents whose children attend a private school to apply for tax-paid transportation before the Aug. 1 deadline.

Nyquist said the deadline could be waived, provided the transportation could be supplied without added cost or alteration of transportation arrangements. He directed Central School District No. 1 comprising four towns in Dutchess and Columbia counties to provide transportation to St. Christopher's Parochial School in Red Hook for several children whose parents applied after the deadline.

Bonus in Hearing
PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Deaf since birth, a Zia Indian received an unexpected bonus after a recent operation on his right ear.

An examination Friday revealed that the patient, Mariano Toribio, 24, of Ysidro, N.M., has gained almost 100 per cent hearing in his left ear as well as in the one that was operated on.

The surgeon, Dr. Frank S. Forman of Colorado Springs, Colo., said he could not yet explain the occurrence. He called it a miracle.

As a public service in cooperation with the Eastern New York Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the following questions and answers on life insurance are presented:

Question: Ten years ago I bought a policy with an extra premium of $200 a year because I was 75 pounds overweight. I saw the light and cut my weight to normal, but the premium is still $200 extra. Why is this?

Answer: Simple—your company doesn't know about it. There is no way for the life insurance company to keep track of eventual changes in health factors, good or bad. They have 100,000 policyholders and while they know the detailed health picture when the policies were bought—the basis for writing the policy—they must depend on the policyholder to report any changes. Any extra premium charged for either health or occupational extra risk is required only as long as the condition continues. If the extra premium is eliminated, the extra premium will be dropped.

In the case of overweight, one of the serious health hazards and a common cause for extra premiums, the companies now know that if the extra weight is dropped, and normal weight sustained, the policyholder is a perfectly standard risk, insofar as that hazard is concerned. You should immediately notify your agent or your company and if you have sustained your lower weight sufficiently long to meet their requirement, they will reduce your premium. And you can do a good turn for any of your friends who may have an extra premium by suggesting to them also that they report back if they have any reason to believe their "extra risk" is eliminated. There are over 6,000,000 people today with extra risk policies—one in every ten families. Many of them probably have gained and outgrown their extra risk and could lower their premiums by reporting this. But, it has to be up to them. Their company wants to cooperate, but has no way of knowing of the improvements.

Reds, Indonesia Sign

JAKARTA (AP) — Communist North Korea and Indonesia have signed agreements covering trade and scientific-cultural-technical cooperation, the Antara news agency said today.

The official news agency said the accords provide for an expansion of trade between the two countries. It said a memorandum was also worked out on a payments system between the Bank of Indonesia and the North Korean Central Bank was worked out.

Car Worries? Never! "I don't know the first thing about taking care of an automobile," says Mrs. Stan Musial, wife of the great St. Louis Cardinals star. "But that doesn't matter, because I know

I can count on our Phillips 66 dealer to take care of the car for me. I can do my own housekeeping, but he does my car-keeping. And he does a great job of it, too!"

"Service? It's really first-class at Phillips 66," says Mrs. Stan Musial

Service? First-class! Lillian Musial — like so many other women — appreciates the prompt, cheerful service you can expect at the Phillips 66 Shield. "It makes such a difference to have a dealer you can depend on," she says. "Stan thinks Phillips service is first-class. I agree!"

Clean and modern! Women—even more than men—like the clean, modern look of Phillips 66 stations. "I may not know anything about cars, but I do know when a rest room is neat and clean," says Mrs. Musial. "Jean and I always look for that 'Certified Clean' sign."

Credit—for everything! One of the best things about having a Phillips dealer do the car-keeping is that you can always use a Phillips credit card. "A credit card is not only convenient," says Stan the Man, "it also gives you a complete record for tax purposes."

Why don't you take a tip from Stan and Lillian Musial? For first-class service and products... go Phillips 66! (It costs no more)

Red China Casts
Eye on CambodiaAn AP News Analysis
By CONRAD FINK

Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Red China seems confident of making a major penetration in Southeast Asia despite costly U.S. attempts to defend that strategic area from communism.

The target is Cambodia, a nation next door to Laos, Thailand and South Viet Nam, where the United States has invested heavily in blood and money.

Peking broadcasts boast that Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has pledged close cooperation with Communist China.

Grateful for Help

Sihanouk has explained he is grateful for "disinterested" Chinese help at a time when so-called imperialist nations are threatening him, Peking broadcasts say. Almost daily, the radio describes "friendly and cordial" talks between Chinese and Cambodian officials.

If the Chinese are able to establish a base of operations in Cambodia, all Southeast Asia will be more seriously threatened.

Cambodia's long, ill-defined borders with its three neighbors are almost impossible to close to infiltrators. South Viet Nam claims Viet Cong guerrillas now use Cambodia as a base for raids across the border.

Three major roads run across Cambodia from the South Vietnamese capital of Saigon. Two end in Thailand, the other in Laos.

Prince Sihanouk has broken diplomatic relations with South Viet Nam and Thailand, charging both with border violations and plots against what he calls Cambodia's neutrality.

Shows Signs of Fear

In recent months, he has shown signs of fear of getting caught up in the type of war that is drenching Viet Nam in blood.

In a newspaper article last September, Sihanouk expressed feeling that communism already has triumphed in Viet Nam and the rest of what once was known as French Indochina.

The prince appeared worried that Cambodia—about six million persons, 88,780 square miles—would be unable to stay afloat in the sea of crisis surrounding it. He complained that American policies were a key reason for the supposed Communist triumph.

Has Some Praise for U. S.

"Our American friends are remarkable organizers, brilliant technicians and excellent soldiers," he wrote. "But their incontestable realism stops short of the realm of politics, where the attitude of the ostrich seems to them to conform best."

Far from acting like an ostrich, the United States poured $366 million in economic and military aid into Cambodia between 1955 and June 30, this year. About $30 million was envisaged for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964.

American military advisers are stationed in Cambodia and U.S. Air Force instructors train Cambodians to fly U.S. airplanes. Shipments of American planes were stepped up last year, apparently in reaction to Cambodia's threat to lean more heavily on the Soviet Union for military hardware.

But the Chinese have spared no effort to woo Sihanouk.

Christmas Mail for Overseas—The United States Post Office Department advises that Christmas parcels for members of the Armed Forces and their dependents overseas should be mailed before Nov. 20, 1963, to insure delivery before December 25th. There is no guarantee that packages mailed after Nov. 20, 1963 will be delivered on time. The deadline for Air Mail is reported as Dec. 10, 1963. This includes packages and greeting cards. Packages should be tightly packed in either double-faced corrugated cardboard, wool, metal or fiberboard boxes and securely wrapped in heavy paper and well tied. Both mailing and return addresses should be clearly printed. It is advisable to print an extra set of addresses on a small card and put them inside the parcel.

Insurance Dividends for 1963—The 1963 regular dividend on Government insurance was paid ahead of the normal schedule. This dividend was based on premium being paid for the full twelve month period between the policy anniversary date in 1962 and the anniversary date in 1963. This answers many inquiries regarding 1963 dividends—they have been paid.

Education—Children of deceased veterans who are eligible for schooling under the War Orphans Educational program are not allowed to pursue correspondence courses under this law.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Often, after we have become a mother, we find very peculiar things happening to our old friendships. The unmarried roommate with whom we once shared an apartment comes to weekend with us—and we find our minds wandering away from conversation we used to find stimulating.

As she tells us about the men she's dating, the possibility that her firm will send her to Paris, her impressions of off-Broadway's latest hit, the interests of the "best" friend with whom we once had so much in common suddenly seem as remote from us as the moon.

We think, "My goodness, what foolish things Jane goes on about! Isn't that the baby crying? It's that tooth coming in..."

I mention this common experience in response to a mother who writes:

"Our 11-year-old girl has formed a friendship with a new neighbor's child who at first seemed a quiet and well-mannered little girl. Now I don't trust her at all. She has gained influence over Betty who runs to the telephone to complain about me whenever we have any argument. There is no use in forbidding the calls as they see each other in school every day. My husband thinks that this child encourages Betty to exaggerate her troubles with me because she has problems at home of her own. I know that parents are not supposed to interfere with children's friendships. But this girl is not a friend."

You know that, Betty doesn't. It's what she has to find out.

I know that it's hard to find out. But if we will remember how time alters our attachments to people who were once our "best" friends, it may become a little easier. We lose some of the anxiety that insists we must detach the child from the friend we consider undesirable and find it easier to stand aside so that he can discover the undesirability for himself. Our own emotional experience with outgrown friends comes to our rescue and supports what we know with our brains.

However, by "standing aside" I do not mean effacing ourselves and our feelings toward the child's undesirable friend. Parents are fully entitled, in my opinion, to express their disapproval of a child's friend. What we are not entitled to do is to demand that he share it.

AAUW Tea Tuesday At Local YWCA

The Kingston Branch, American Association of University Women, will sponsor a get acquainted tea from 2 to 4 tomorrow in the lower rooms of the YWCA on Clinton Avenue.

Mrs. Fred Brammer, of Red Hook, local membership chairman, and Mrs. Paul Prentice, of Kingston, said that the tea is being held to outline the local organization's program to recent college and university graduates. They said that "Though an integral part of the national organization, each AAUW branch works out its own program according to the interests of its members and community needs. The common purpose is educational work in the highest sense, and on a level to make use of college training."

Regional Conference Of Junior Leagues Opens Tomorrow

Mrs. James H. Greene of Syracuse, director of Region 2 of the Association of Junior Leagues of America, will preside at the Regional Conference tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday at Williams Lake Hotel, Rosendale. Kingston Junior League will host the conference and Mrs. G. Robert Nurnich Jr., and Mrs. Michael J. Larkin are local chairmen.

Mrs. William Davenport and Mrs. James Embree are local conference delegates.

Mrs. Greene was elected regional director last May and is serving a two-year term of office on the AJLA Board of Directors. She is a member of the Junior League of Syracuse of which she has served as president and vice president. She has been active in both league and community activities and has served as president and vice president of the Onondaga County city and as corresponding secretary of the Girl Scouts of the Onondaga Council. In 1959, Mrs. Greene was named "Outstanding Woman of the Year" for her community service.

Mrs. Greene will conduct two workshops during the local conference, entitled, "Junior League Leadership Today," and "Pursuing Policies."

Mrs. Kincaid Vars, as consultant on arts for the AJLA, serves as adviser to member Leagues on their projects in arts, crafts, music, art galleries and library services. She was formerly associated with the Everson Art Museum in Syracuse and also wrote an art column for The Syracuse Post Standard. Mrs. Vars will conduct two workshops.

Mrs. Walter H. Swayze, of Trenton, N. J., consultant on finance for AJLA, will conduct two workshops on finances and money-raising. A former president, vice president, and treasurer of the Junior League of Trenton, she also has served as treasurer of the Social Service Exchange and on the finance committee of the YWCA. Mrs. Swayze currently is serving as president of the board of directors of a local United Fund Agency.

John Pike, of Woodstock, world famous artist and illustrator, will be guest speaker for a luncheon meeting on Wednesday. His work has been featured in such magazines as Colliers, True and Readers Digest.

Harry Rigby Jr., Kingston city historian, will be guest speaker at a luncheon on Thursday. He will discuss the city's history up to the present.

To MEET SON AND HIS BRIDE

Q: My son is to be married to a girl who lives in a distant city. Since it will be impossible for any of our relatives and friends to attend the wedding which is to take place in the bride's hometown, I would like to have an open house reception for them when they come here where they intend to live. Will you please tell me what type of invitation to send and also how it should be worded?

A: Either write across your double visiting card: "To meet Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" and the time and date in the lower left hand corner, or else have the invitations engraved:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith request the pleasure of your company at a reception to meet Mr. and Mrs. John Smith etc.

A Widow's Name and Wedding Ring

Q: I was married almost 20 years when my husband died suddenly. I loved him very much and his death was a great shock. Now to add to my distress, a friend tells me that I have to give up his name and also discontinue wearing my wedding ring. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

A: She is not right. You not only may, but should very definitely continue to call yourself Mrs. John Smith. You also continue to wear your wedding ring.

Desserts in Fluted Paper Shells

Q: When pastries or ice cream molds come in fluted paper shells, should they be served in these or taken out of them? I mean in a private house, not a restaurant.

A: If the ice cream is at all soft, it should be left in the paper shells. Pastries should be taken out of the shells.

The clothes of the bride and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column. (A Bell-McClure Syndicate Feature)

Dutch Choir Mothers

Old Dutch Choir Mothers will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. to hear Donald Feik of the Schulerick Carillon Company, present a lecture and demonstration on the use of handbells.

The art of handbell ringing was founded more than 400 years ago in England. In the 18th Century, handbells were expanded in musical range and became a musical instrument. Choirs of "Tune Ringers" were soon formed and became very popular throughout the world. Today there are more than 300 handbell choirs.

Wednesday night's program is open to all interested members of the church and should be of particular interest to those planning to attend the handbell concert on Sunday, Nov. 24 at 4 p. m. in the church.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. BOICE were honored Friday night at the old Boice homestead on Sawkill Road in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Boice, former Nellie Hofmann of Zena and daughter of late Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bernhard Hofmann, and her husband were wed on Nov. 18, 1913 in the Woodstock Reformed Parsonage by the Rev. Clinton W. Clough. They have five sons, George W., of Mount Marion; Charles H., Kingston; Stanley, of Sawkill Road; Philip B. and Paul, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Jack A. Wood, of Cottekill; Mrs. Elmer Kirschner, of Kenosha, Wis., and Mrs. Milford Stokes, Sawkill Road, and 30 grandchildren. Numerous friends and relatives called at open house on Sunday when party was given by couple's eight children. (Freeman photo)

Home Extension Service News

Once the first decision has been made to include turkey on the menu, there are several others to make regarding selection and preparation. Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent, declares in the following article:

There is a wide selection of turkeys and turkey products from which to choose. Most of the turkeys on the market are sold and ready-to-cook and frozen. Fresh birds are available, especially during holiday time, but usually command a higher price. You may choose from a wide range of turkey sizes—small birds weigh from four to six pounds to large birds over 18 pounds.

Convenience Items—Several types of products are available: frozen stuffed ready-to-cook turkey, turkey cutlets, canned turkey meat, and turkey roll or roast. The turkey roll was originally developed for the institutional trade but may be found in some retail markets. It is a frozen uncooked boneless rolled turkey roast, consisting of about 60 per cent dark meat and 40 per cent white meat. (This is the same proportion that naturally appears in turkeys). The advantage of the turkey roll is that it saves storage and oven space, eliminates waste, and provides easy carving and portion control. Of course this is probably not the best choice for families who value the aesthetic and culinary appeal of a whole turkey with all the trimmings more than convenience.

Many of the details on selection and preparation of turkeys are given in the Cornell Extension Bulletin, "Modern Ways With Roast Turkey." Since many questions arise about the different ways to prepare turkey, here are some facts from the bulletin on "Advice That is Open to Question":

"Baste with unsalted fat." There is no basis for recommending one fat in preference to another except for flavor.

"Roast breast down for the first half of the roasting period." This is an awkward procedure; it detracts from the appearance of the bird; laboratory tests show that it increases cooking time without improving palatability.

"Wrap the bird completely in foil before roasting." The arguments against this practice are the same as for roasting the bird in a covered pan. In addition, it is messy to remove the foil in a way that will conserve the meat juices for gravy.

"Partially cook big turkeys the day before." This practice has real health hazards. Heating occurs at such a slow rate that the food remains a dangerously long time in a temperature range favorable to bacterial growth.

To Stuff or Not to Stuff—The bulletin discusses the reasons for careful handling of poultry and stuffing. Ingredients in stuffing — broth, giblets, raw egg, corn-bread, and oysters promote bacterial growth. Stuff the bird just before roasting. If you prepare stuffing ahead of time, refrigerate dry and liquid ingredients separately.

For additional information on turkey, write for your free copy of the Cornell Extension Bulletin — "Modern Ways With Roast Turkey" to — Home Demonstration Department, 220 Wall St., U.P.O. Box 545, Kingston, N. Y.

20th Century Club Pays Tribute Here To War Veterans

A tribute to the veterans of all wars, prepared by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, was presented at the recent meeting of the Twentieth Century Club in the home of Mrs. Adam H. Porter, on St. James Street.

Mrs. Porter reported on the Third District meeting last month at Valatia. She said that Mrs. Philip LeFevre was elected Third District chairman and Mrs. J. Warren Braley was named to the fifth vice presidency of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs. Members of the seven counties represented at the district meeting heard speakers urge individual clubs to press for support of the newly-formed junior student scholarship fund.

Mrs. Alexander Goercke, Mrs. Warren Russell and Mrs. Porter were appointed to serve on the club's Christmas Cheer Committee to help a needy family.

Mrs. John Pope will present a study paper entitled, "Our Northern Neighbors" at the next meeting of the club next Monday in the home of Mrs. Elmer Van Tassel, 223 Park Lane, Port Ewen. Members are reminded that the CARE contributions will be taken up at that meeting.

KHS Class of 1944 Planning Reunion; Meeting Tonight

The planning committee for the 20th reunion of the Kingston High School Class of 1944, will meet tonight.

Tonight's session is scheduled for the Civic Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel at 8 o'clock. Anyone interested is invited.

B&P Club Meeting

Members of the Business and Professional Club of the YWCA entertained a member of long standing at their November 13 supper-meeting. She is Mrs. Kenneth Lowe, the former Helen Gronemeyer. Tables were decorated in a bridal theme and the guest of honor was presented with a wedding cake.

Ward Tongue is scheduled to speak at this Wednesday's supper-meeting. His topic will be Kingston's Urban Renewal.

New Information Center High On Chamber Agenda for 1964

The Chamber of Commerce acted on several major items at its November meeting at Deane's: (1) building of a new information center; (2) erection of a sign on Route 28; and (3) lights for the new parking lot on the Village Green.

The Chamber also made preliminary plans for a contest for the best specifications and plans for the information center. Details will be worked out at a special meeting scheduled Tuesday at the home of Chamber President Alvin Moscovitz.

Urging immediate action on the information center, Moscovitz noted that a location will have to be found on which to build it. He also pressed for start of construction before the severe weather sets in.

It was noted that Nelson Shultis, a member of the building committee, had indicated his firm would furnish some of the lumber and several members have volunteered labor and other services.

West Reinstated

Chairman of the center committee is Edgar Rosenblum. He will be assisted by Malcolm Rose, Supervisor Abram F. Molyneux, and Shultis. William E. West Sr., was a member of the committee but became ineligible when he was reinstated to the Board of Directors at this meeting. West resigned as president and director in order to campaign for superintendent of highways in the recent town election.

The suggestion that a contest be held to design plans for the information center was enthusiastically endorsed by the membership. Rules of the contest will stipulate that the plans conform with the architectural motif and artistic background of the community.

The design for a sign on Route 28 was presented to the Chamber in a letter from Mrs. Sylvia Kondolf, chairman of the study committee. It would be in the shape of an easel or palette and would be approximately ten by twelve feet. The suggested location was near Fred's Body Shop near the traffic interchange.

Mrs. Kondolf Resigns

After lengthy discussion alternate choices for location, size and other details, the matter was referred back to committee. Mrs. Kondolf, who represented the Record Press in the Chamber recently resigned as editor of the paper and in her letter notified the Chamber that she was withdrawing from membership. Other members of the sign committee are: Mrs. Betty Dessez of the Town House, Jack Citroen and Harry Alpern.

Following a discussion on the need for lighting for the new parking lot off the Village Green, Members noted that lights are necessary for special night programs and also public safety. It was pointed out that many persons used the parking lot for a recent program at the art gallery and were forced to flounder around in the dark seeking their cars.

A suggestion was made that a contract might be entered into with Central Hudson to purchase a pole and pay a monthly rate to the utility company. Harry Alpern was appointed a committee of one to investigate costs and other details.

"Swim O' Links" Is Winning Entry In Name Contest

A committee of three judges has unanimously named Mrs. Jean J. Miller of Dixon Avenue, Woodstock, winner of a contest to pick an appropriate name for the new swimming pool and miniature golf course being built by Joe and Nora Holdridge on Route 212 in Bearsville.

Mrs. Miller's catchy and attractive suggestion "Joe and Nora's Swim O' Links" won for her a seasonal membership in the swim club.

The selections committee consisted of Kiki Godwin, co-publisher of the Ulster County Townsman; Charles J. Tiano, Sports Editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman and Joe Holdridge Sr., the builder.

Mrs. Miller's entry was opened early during the judging and stood up against a large number of entries. There was a surprising number of duplications and many excellent entries that were rejected on the grounds of lack of originality. Two suggested entries that brought smiles to the judges were "The Bikini Club" and "Mermaids Retreat."

The name "Swim O' Links" stood out immediately with the judges since the title incorporates that the major activities at the new project, swimming and golf. Several entries combined the two words but they were mainly "Swim and Swim."

Onteora Board Meets Tonight At West Hurley

Residents in the West Hurley area will have an opportunity to see an Onteora Board of Education meeting in their own backyard tonight. The board meets in the all-purpose room of the West Hurley school 8 p. m. in the first of a series of monthly meetings scheduled in different parts of the district.

The selection of the meeting place is in line with a plan announced by board president, Philip Gordon, some time ago to bring regular meetings to various parts of the district.

One of the major items on the agenda tonight is a detailed report on factors involved in a proposed high school bond issue next spring.

It is president Gordon's wish that many West Hurley residents who are normally reluctant to drive to Boiceville for the monthly sessions of the board will attend tonight's meeting and thus participate in the activities of the school district.

Need Volunteer Help For Yuletide Pageant

The Woodstock Christmas Eve Committee, in addition to having Santa Claus present Christmas stockings to the children, will also have the appropriate religious observance and present the Christmas Pageant.

Teenagers and adults are needed to participate in the pageant which will take place silently during the regular program. It was announced. Shepherds, wise men and the holy family will be presented in accordance to their arrival at the manger. Anyone wishing to participate in the pageant is asked to contact Robert Carr, Woodstock.

Have First Son

Mrs. Marian Umhey, co-publisher of the Ulster County Townsman with Kiki Godwin, had a pleasant first edition—a nine pound, two ounce baby boy, James Howard Umhey, on Nov. 7 at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. (Howard) and Mrs. Umhey also have four daughters, the oldest 14 years of age. Mrs. Umhey was also re-elected the

10-Year Lease Granted by Board To Cablevision

A 10-year lease, subject to a permissive referendum, has been granted by the Woodstock Town Board to Kingston Cablevision, Inc. on a plot of land located on the California Quarry Road in the Mead Mountain section of the township.

The Cablevision company plans to erect a receiving aerial and small building to house the power plant which will service the congested area of Woodstock village.

The rental fee is $25.00 a month or $300.00 a year. The land will be surveyed by Daniel Kleine. The plot will be about an acre in size.

Town Reserves Rights

The town reserves all right to use the land.

A permissive referendum will be mandatory if the required number of persons sign a petition requesting it. A public notice to that effect will be posted in the near future.

Board action culminated several months of negotiations between the Cablevision officials and the town board.

The motion to grant the lease was offered by Supervisor Molyneux and seconded by Justice of the Peace Rudi Baumgarten.

OCS Personnel At State Parley

Three members of the Onteora Central School staff attended the 1963 conference of the New York State Association of Deans and Guidance Personnel at Kiamasha Lake. They were William Yeaple, guidance director, and two guidance counselors, Charles Britting and Mollie Gersoni.

The 37th annual conference was chaired by New York State Association President F. L. Corey, professor in the State University of New York at Cortland. The keynote address was delivered by Dr. Solon T. Kimball, professor of anthropology at Columbia University, who discussed societal and peer group influences on student behavior.

Approximately 1200 members attended this year's conference, as well as a considerable number of deans and professors from many other states. A broad selection of addresses and panel sessions were headed by representatives from the N. Y. S. Department of Education, the United States Department of Labor, and sixteen leading educational institutions.

The conference centered on "Society and the Student" as a general theme, subtopics being Social Change, Values and Morality, Counseling, College Admissions, Student Political Action, Changing Family Structure, Testing, Records and Ethics, and Curriculum. Seven papers were presented to the group.

The slate of officers elected for the ensuing year is headed by Dr. Louis Rabineau, vice president for student affairs at Pratt Institute, who will serve as new Association president.

Vermont College Wins Debating Tournament

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Representatives of Middlebury (Vt.) College have captured the varsity team title and three individual awards in the Niagara University Intercollegiate Invitational Debate Tournament.

In varsity team competition, Middlebury finished Saturday with a 6-2 record, as did City College of New York University of Rochester. Middlebury gained first place on the basis of points awarded to individual speakers for the way they presented their arguments.

City College was placed second and Rochester third.

Colgate won the team title in the novice division. Middlebury was second and Niagara third.

All debaters argued this proposition: "Resolved: The federal government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates."

Twenty-one schools entered teams in the tournament.

Dig Those Crazy Stamps

Most of us like flash and color on our Christmas time letters, cards and packages. It's in the spirit of the season. Lively reds and greens and blues — the more the better, right? Not like the drab old black and white we see in our letter box all year long!

Well, if you want brightness on your mail, you've got it this year, brother! As usual, there's the Christmas Seal that's been fighting tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases for years. As it always has been (for almost 60 years!), the Christmas Seal is a lively spot of cheer that adds a big lift to your cards and gift packages. This year it features a perky little snowman who will make the spirit of Christmas dance all over the local post office for the next month and a half.

But this year (like last) we also have the Post Office Department's own Christmas stamps. Like the Seals they're lively, colorful and all-out Christmas, too — and when you use them, along with a generous plastering of the Seals, your gift package to Grandma back home is going to look like an explosion in a color paint factory!

The stamp and the Seal are different — the first carries the mail, the second is carried by it. But they're alike in one thing. They carry a message of cheer and hope that is the Christmas feeling we all should have and pass on to others. Both the Christmas Seal and the Christmas stamp belong on every piece of mail that goes out around this time of year.

Especially the Seal. That's a token that means we're licking disease and tragedy, moving ahead to eradicate tuberculosis and control the other respiratory diseases. It's just what the Christmas Season needs.

Rhinebeck Adopts New Speed Limit, Sales Ordinances

An ordinance increasing the speed limit on Routes 9 and 308 in Rhinebeck village, and another regulating "going out of business sales" in that community have been adopted by the Village Board of Trustees.

The first ordinance increases the speed limit from 30 to 40 miles an hour on the two northern Dutchess highways, on Route 9 from the village's southern line to a point 300 feet south of South Street and between the village's northern line and Platt Avenue.

The Village Board adopted a second ordinance regulating "going out of business" sales to be supervised by the village clerk. The ordinance requires firms to be licensed prior to the sale at a cost of $10 and to file an application containing the complete inventory. The ordinance provides that "no additions whatsoever shall be made to the stock of merchandise set forth in the itemized list of goods."

30-Day Period
Licenses for such sales will be issued for a period of 30 days, and may be renewed for additional 30-day periods. The ordinance grants the village clerk the right to examine all merchandise on the premises for comparison with the inventory stated in the application. The clerk also has the power to suspend or revoke at any time any license issued. At the end of the sale, the ordinance states that the firm cannot continue in the same business at the same location, or engage in a similar business at the same location for a period of one year after the termination of the license to go out of business.

Violators of the ordinance are subject to a $50 fine and a jail sentence not exceeding 30 days for each day a violation occurs.

No Exceptions

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — No exceptions, said Police Capt. Harold Rush, as he led the Ashland Police in a fifth consecutive week of crackdowns on violations of the state's Sunday-closing law.

Among employees arrested in a discount store Sunday was Terry Rush, 19, the captain's son.

Charge Dismissed

A third degree assault charge against Francis Burns, 44, of 197 Greenkill Avenue, was dismissed in city court today. It was lodged Nov. 2 by Joan Mertine, of 672 Broadway, after reported trouble at the West Shore Hotel, Railroad Avenue.

Majestic Twin Temples Will Be Dismantled

CAIRO (AP) — Dismantling of the majestic twin temples of Abu Simble on the Upper Nile will begin next May to save them from the waters of the Aswan high dam reservoir.

The Egyptian Ministry of Culture signed a contract with a consortium of five foreign companies. The consortium will move the 75 temples 75 feet above their present location and reconstruct them on the bank of the reservoir.

The work will cost $36 million, to be supplied by 47 countries. The United States and the United Arab Republic will be the biggest contributors.

Barghoorn

had any basis for accusing him of spying.

They knew he was going to try and determine how public opinion is formed in the Soviet Union, Barghoorn said, and could have refused him a visa. "There are many inexplicable and mysterious aspects of this episode," he said. "I shall probably never know why the Soviet government decided to take an action which by non-Soviet standards was so strange and indeed bizarre."

Barghoorn declined to name the prison in which he was held or to tell almost anything about his experiences as a prisoner. But when asked if he underwent much questioning, he replied "all the time."

Asked about psychological or physical pressures used on him, he answered: "I think that within the terms of their system I was well treated."

On the flight to New York

Barghoorn celebrated with a shot of vodka and some caviar.

"I think it all came out for the best," he said during the flight. "I greatly appreciate what President Kennedy has done in my behalf, and I definitely do not intend to reveal details."

Starts Dec. 1st

These new procedures will be placed in effect Dec. 1, 1963. In the meantime, all persons having any parking violations outstanding can avoid the foregoing additional penalties by appearing at the Traffic Bureau before Dec. 1, 1963 and properly disposing of such violations.

The new procedures refer only to parking tickets and in no way affect other vehicle and traffic offenses.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Weakness in oil stocks set the tone for the entire market early this afternoon. Losses of a point or a bit more were scattered throughout the list.

Trading was moderate. At noon The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1.0 at 277.0 with industrials down 2.0, rails off .3 and utilities off .3.

Steels and aircrafts and airlines held about even while chemicals were a shade better. Among the oils Standard (New Jersey), Texaco and Standard (Indiana) were all down 1 or a little more. Royal Dutch gave up a major fraction. Political uncertainties, excessive competition and the fact that some analysts think the group has reached its peak were reasons cited for the weakness.

Chrysler, off about 1 1/2 at one time, recovered somewhat and was off less than 1. GM, Ford, and American Motors gave up small fractions. Studebaker was unchanged.

South Puerto Rico Sugar was active and up about 1 while Eversham and Foxboro were down around 1 in active trading.

Xerox fell more than 3. IBM and Control Data were off a little more than 1. U.S. Steel, Republic and Jones and Laughlin lost small fractions while Bethlehem was unchanged.

Widow Forfeits Growth To Diversify Holdings

Q "I am a widow in my fifties and not very well, having a serious heart condition. I own my home — which my son looks after for me — and have 60 shares of Electric Storage Battery, 10 Niagara Mohawk, and 300 Long Island Lighting. Should I diversify my Lido holding and perhaps obtain more income?"

A "I am extremely sorry to hear of your heart condition, but I am pleased that you have a good son to help you. It is perfectly true that with $9,000 in Long Island Lighting you are not well diversified, although I can visualize no slowing down in growth in that excellent stock."

However, diversification is always a sound principle, and you can increase your income — at considerable sacrifice in growth — in other good situations.

I suggest you hold 100 shares of Lico, sell the balance, and reinvest in equal dollar amounts of St. Joseph Light & Power and Cincinnati & Suburban Bell Telephone — both yielding a secure 4.4 per cent.

Q "I own a large amount of Series E bonds, which have been extended. My return on these bonds is 3 1/2 per cent — compounded semi-annually — if held to maturity. I'm told I can get a better yield on Treasury bonds, about which I know nothing. Would you advise me to switch?"

A "The major difference between Series E bonds and Treasuries is that Series E bonds are redeemable at stated values at any time, without advance notice. Treasuries are traded over-the-counter by most large dealers and are subject to fluctuations in price, mainly on variation in money rates."

The longer term Treasuries have been trending lower in recent trading, and the 4s of 1973s now sell below par to yield 4.14 per cent to maturity. You must decide for yourself whether — in order to increase your yield — you are prepared to assume some market risk in Treasuries. The Series E bonds offer no risk.

Atlantic City

nue behind the burning ones also caught fire but were quickly extinguished.

Louis Levine, an artist who lived across the street from the Surfside said he ran to the hotel and heard "screaming death wails. I panicked because the flames were too bright and I couldn't go in."

The fire was about three fourths of a mile north of Convention Hall where the Democratic National Convention will be held next August.

The Surfside was the only hotel or rooming house that had guests, according to Police Sgt. James Mullen, one of the first men on the scene. The others were closed for the winter.

Starting at the Boardwalk, the buildings hit by the fire were an apartment building, the Stratmore, Surfside and Leonard hotels, a rooming house, the Imperial Hotel annex and another rooming house.

All four hotels and one rooming house were destroyed. The flames were out of control in the Imperial annex and the second rooming house.

The fire licked at the window frames and sills of the apartment building, but no great damage was reported there.

Old Wooden Houses
All the buildings except the apartment house were old-style wooden structures between five and seven stories tall.

Mullen and Police Capt. James Dooney and Patrolman Jack Godowsky were responding to a routine trouble call at the Surfside when they discovered the fire.

"There was no sign of anything," as they opened the front door and entered, Dooney said. "Then all of a sudden the place went up," he said.

After the officers brought out five elderly guests, a man and four women, Dooney said: "I heard hollering inside. There's no doubt that there were still some others in the place."

Mullen said the five they rescued all were burned, but not badly.

"We don't know how many were in there," said Godowsky. "All we heard were people screaming and hollering."

Hundreds of hastily clad spectators milled on the street and Boardwalk.

Many were residents of buildings across the street, where the wind whipped sparks and ashes.

Firemen were constantly on the run to homes where sparks lit.

Police estimated upwards of 200 firemen from Atlantic City and neighboring shore communities fought the fires.

collectors and dealers, because this error cannot be corrected by the U.S. Post Office Department.

"The stamps were printed by Harrison and Sons of London, and screened by its personnel in accordance with the usual rigid, careful British Standards."

Stolow said he sold most of the stamps to dealers for $275 each, suggesting that dealers resell them to collectors for $390 apiece. At that retail price the misprinted stamps will be sold for about $20,000.

A year ago the U.S. Post Office Department blasted the dreams of a few American collectors of making small fortunes by selling misprinted U.S. stamps bearing the likeness of Hammarskjold, the late U.N. secretary-general.

The department purposely misprinted thousands more of the four-cent stamps and devalued the original misprints.

Hearing Is Slated

der which a person's ability to drive properly is considered impaired if he has .10 per cent alcohol in his blood. Speno says the level should be reduced to .05 per cent.

Translated into broad measurements, that would reduce the permissible allowance from four ounces of whiskey or five bottles of beer within an hour of driving to two ounces or 2.5 bottles.

The hearing also will focus on Speno's recommendation, announced previously, that the state require seat belts in the front seats of all used cars sold by automobile dealers in the state.

WHY EXPENSIVE MONEY?

When the United States Government gets the balance of payments straightened out, it is probable that money will get "cheap" again. It is expensive now.

Expensive money means relatively high interest rates. Cheap money brings low rates. Our government enjoys vast powers to make money expensive or cheap.

During the Second World War when Uncle Sam borrowed $150,000,000 a day to finance that struggle, money was made cheap to cut the interest cost. Billions of dollars of government bonds were sold with coupons carrying a low rate of interest.

Today, to slow down the loss of America's dwindling gold supplies to foreign creditors, interest rates are high in the attempt to keep dollars here and to invite foreign investment.

What is happening here is clearly illustrated by local events. General Motors Acceptance Corporation — a giant finance enterprise with a high credit rating — has recently sold a $150,000,000 twenty-two year maturity 4½ per cent debenture issue at 99½, offering a yield of over 4½ per cent.

Expensive money brought this high yield about. And this condition holds sway throughout the investment world.

Common stock prices are high. Many of the best equities are selling to yield 2 per cent to 3 per cent. Yes, they carry growth.

That is an important compensating factor in their purchase. But many investors, retired or soon to be, care more for income than for growth. If a person, 70 or 80, with limited resources, must have 4½ per cent on his money to achieve a satisfactory standard of living, why should he hold a high-grade stock selling to yield 2 per cent?

Of course, he shouldn't. Today's expensive money policies form a perfect background for all investors who need good wages on their money.

Here is a widow — 72, for example, whose three high-grade stocks are worth $80,000. Her present dividends are pathetic — about $1,000 a year.

Her heirs want her to hold everything. They are afraid she will spend some of the money if she were to sell a few of her stocks.

Expensive money is made to order for her. She can buy, with $50,000 of her stock money, sound bonds that will pay her around $2,500 a year.

The high-grade 4½ per cent bonds of American Telephone are selling at 100. The Atchison 4 per cent bonds can be bought for 94. The consolidated Edison 4½ per cent obligations can be had for 98.

And a dozen U. S. Treasury bonds can be bought at from about 89 to 90 cents on the dollar to yield more than 4 per cent if held to maturity.

Expensive money has forced the price of these bonds down. And, who knows, possibly our government will get its international financial matters properly arranged in a few years. And were this to happen, under cheaper money, all of these bonds would advance sharply in price.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For most of us, the Miss America pageant is an excessively sentimental, sometimes embarrassingly amateurish television diversion, but always filled with pretty girls.

Sunday night NBC showed us the other side of the coin. Somehow, after watching Jeanne Richey Amacker's month-long ordeal, I'll never feel the same about that thrilling moment when one girl is chosen from 52 to reign — and to earn $100,000 during her year as Miss America.

Jeanne, a University of Texas senior, was followed by the network camera crew from the moment last summer when she won the Miss Texas title, a Miss America preliminary.

Grooming for the big show started the next day. She discussed the business arrangements of her contract which had the Junior Chamber of Commerce represent her. She agreed not to marry during the year or even leave the state without the chamber's permission.

A brisk and tactless young man was assigned to take her through her training paces — lessons in make-up, with emphasis on her eyes ("to make them look larger") and lessons in walking ("a lady always has her arms close to her body"). Her watchdog ignored her when choosing clothes. And, in a conversation with a hairdresser, he paid no attention to her small protests about the way they proposed to cut her hair.

Jeanne, whose smile at first was radiant, was beginning to look unhappy and tired. Then four Texas show biz types started to pull to bits, verbally, her selection of songs and her singing voice — singing was her contest "talent." At that point she cracked, tears streaming down her face.

Finally Atlantic City came, and when she did her song before a big audience, she appeared radiant again. She survived to the final 10, then was passed over.

As the announcement of the winners was made, that set smile remained but her young face suddenly looked empty as her hand fluttered uncertainly to her face. It was a bleakly tragic moment.

SS Benefits Are Listed for Area Eligible People

Many people in the United States who are over age 65 may not realize that they have monthly social security benefits coming to them, according to George Haberning, social security district manager in Kingston.

Payment of these benefits is not automatic. An application must be filed in order to receive any social security benefits.

Haberning stated that the amount of work necessary to get benefits has been changed in recent years and some people who were previously told they were ineligible may now qualify. Persons who some years ago were denied benefits on the basis of insufficient work, should again get in touch with the social security office and see if they are now eligible.

Many persons over age 65, who are working full or part time, may now be eligible to get some monthly social security benefits. For example, if a person's monthly benefit is $100 and he has earnings of $2000 per year, he would still be eligible for $650 in benefits for the year.

He would be entitled to partial benefits because for each $2 he earns between $1200 and $1700, he loses one dollar in benefits. For each dollar he earns above $1700, he loses one dollar in benefits.

Haberning emphasized that two particular groups — those over age 65 (even though still working), and those previously denied benefits because of having not worked enough — should get in touch with the nearest social security office. The Social Security office for the residents of Ulster and Greene County is located at 51 Albany Avenue, Kingston.

YMCA News

New Elementary Class

A new class for elementary school boys has been started at the YMCA in cooperation with parents of the West Hurley Elementary School.

The West Hurley school is on split session and the boys are transported to the Kingston YMCA each Wednesday morning in parent car pools.

A program of "fun for fitness" is held in the Y gym under the leadership of Charles Sims, YMCA physical director. Following the gym class swimming instruction is offered in the YMCA graded swim skills by L. I. Van Heusen, youth secretary.

The boys eat their lunch in the youth lobby and the parents take them to school.

On Saturday morning the boys have the opportunity of another gym class, recreational swim, lobby games and crafts in the craft shop.

Mrs. Ralph A. Carlen is the key mother on this project.

Boys participating are Mark Ross, Christopher Klingner, Holger Sterberg, Robert Durand, David Carlen, Brent Lamb, Craig Bird, Gary Steiner, Harrison Muller, Michael Gray, David Gray, Carl Guendel, Erick Anderson and Larry Lamb.

The Atlantic City boardwalk was the idea of Jacob Keim, a hotelkeeper, and Alexander Boardman, a conductor on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad. They thought it would keep people from tracking sand into hotel rooms and railroad cars.

Attention Foreign Car Owners

Now you can get the service you have been searching all over creation for. Justice Dept. Asked About Sit-in Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court asked the Justice Department today to submit its views on the constitutional issues involved in six pending sit-in cases.

The high tribunal, which heard lengthy arguments last month in the six cases, issued an order in which it invited Solicitor General Archibald Cox to file a new brief.

The cases on which the court heard arguments involved sit-ins in Maryland, South Carolina and Florida. There were two cases from Maryland and two from South Carolina.

The court divided 5-4 on the question of requesting the Justice Department's views on the constitutional issues in the cases.

The dissenters were Justices Black, Clark, Harland and White.

Thus, those favoring holding up decisions in the sit-in cases until the court hears from the department were Chief Justice Warren and Justices Douglas, Brennan, Stewart and Gold-berg.

Prohibition Ends

DOBWALLS, England (AP)—Eighty years of prohibition—unofficial but effective—ended today for this Cornish village with the opening of the Highway Inn.

The village's Baptist chapel bought the only pub in the 1880s and closed it. Since then, the 200 villagers have had to travel three miles to buy a drink.

Despite 40 objections, the Do-bwalls magistrates issued a license for the new pub.

Barely a tenth of the earth's surface is suitable for growing crops.

PITCHFORK ON WHEELS—City folk driving past farms in the northern United States and Canada may be startled in the future to see a haystack chasing a tractor. Thanks to the ingenuity of South Dakota farmer-mechanic Fritz Lahman, farmers can take the drudgery out of hauling hay a forkful at a time from field to barn lot for winter cattle feeding. In top photo, the "5-Minute Stack Mover" is shown backing up to a haystack. A cable placed around the stack is winched in, pulling the stack onto the carrier. Below, the huge haystack weighing many tons is then hauled off with a saving of many man hours of work. To farmers, that's not hay.

Caram Selected For Army Signal Training Course

Private Michael P. Caram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Caram of 21 Prospect Street, New Paltz, has been enrolled in the U. S. Army Signal School at Fort Monmouth for 10 weeks intensive training as photographic technician. A 1961 graduate of New Paltz Central High School, he attended Dutchess County Community College. He is married to the former Susan Yess, also of New Paltz.

Admission to the Signal School is limited to men of outstanding promise. Classes as a technical institute, the school gives training chiefly in the operation, maintenance, and repair of about forty different types of electronic equipment, from radio and radar sets to "electronic brains." Courses are also given in meteorology and both motion picture and still photography.

A yearly average of 6,600 enlisted men are selected for admission. All are chosen from among the Army's best in point of intelligence, educational attainments, and practical ability.

Vinson Not Seeking Another House Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., who has served longer in the House than any man in history — almost a half-century—announced today he will not seek another term.

On his 80th birthday today, Vinson said he will retire from Congress when his term ends on Jan. 3, 1965. He will complete 50 years in the House on Nov. 14, 1964.

Last July, Vinson passed the record of more than 48 years held by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex.

Vinson is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and one of the most powerful figures in Congress. Vinson, apparently in excellent health, was enjoying a cigar in his office when he made his announcement this morning.

Local Booters Lose 2nd Round Cup Series Tilt

The Kingston Sport Club's 46-game winning streak in the Central New York Soccer Association is still intact. But the local booters will have to wait until 1964 for another crack at the U. S. Amateur Cup title.

They saw their chances fade Sunday under the onslaughts of a powerful Greek-American Reserve of New York who struck for 3 fast first half goals and then held on for a 4-2 victory at Oehler's Mountain Lodge field.

Temper flared high and there was rough body contact in the bruising contest which saw Euchen crash through for Kingston at the 20-minute mark for a 1-0 lead. The Greeks stunned Kingston with three goals within 8 minutes then fell back into a deliberate defensive pattern to grind out the clock.

As the Sport Club observer noted: "Once ahead they played for time, kicking the ball more often into the woods which ring the field than on the field itself."

The New York goals came in quick succession at the 23, 26 and 31-minute marks and the ruggedly fought first half ended with the visitors ahead, 3-1.

Baqua brought the crowd to its feet with a fine shot at the 52-minute mark to narrow the margin to 3-2 and put Kingston back in the running. The locals pressed the Greek defense but missed numerous shots.

Tempers exploded again and Referee Chippendale was hard put to keep the game under control. Kingston lapsed back into defensive play and the switch in strategy was fatal. The fourth Greek goal came at the 75-minute mark. Trailing 4-2 the Sport Club unleashed several assaults against the Greek goalie who held firm, as the clock ran out.

Veteran Alex Dirks, one of the bellwethers of the Kingston team, was injured in the second half and was replaced by Tiny Alexander.

Play Albany Next
Next Sunday the Sport Club resumes action against the Albany Sons of Italy in a Central New York league contest at Oehler's. The second team will play a squad representing the S.S. Bremen which will be docked in New York for the weekend.

Nick Alexander, a Sport Club star before he enlisted in the Army, has made the U. S. Army soccer team in Europe. It was reported over the weekend.

In league action Sunday, Albany Sons of Italy downed Schenectady SOI, 3-0; Utica won over Albany Sport Club, 4-1; Schenectady FC blanked Utica Sons of Italy, 5-0, and Poughkeepsie Blue and White edged Troy, 2-1.

Bear War Plan Works Against Green Bay

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The best laid plans of generals and football coaches sometimes . . . work out right to the letter.

Take the "war plan" of the Chicago Bears against the Green Bay Packers. Papa Bear George Halas drew it up, and his troops executed it flawlessly Sunday to chase the enemy Packers from the field — and possibly right out of the National Football League title race.

Halas wrote out his order of battle against the defending champs on a sheet of lined notebook paper headed: "Our War Plan against the Packers."

The text, examined by a correspondent after the battle, proved to have two key points: "Control the ball." "Smother their offense."

The Bears took care of the first with a crushing ground game that outgained the Packers 248 yards to 71. On the second, they intercepted five Packer passes and recovered two fumbles.

The result was a 26-7 Chicago victory that put the Bears alone on top in the West with a 9-1 record. The Packers are 8-2, with both losses coming at the hands of the Bears. There are four games left.

In the East, the New York Giants trampled San Francisco's futile 49ers 48-14 to take over first place in the East with an 8-2 record.

The St. Louis Cardinals dumped the slumping Cleveland Browns 20-14, knocking the Browns out of a tie with the Giants. The Cards and Browns are tied for second with 7-3 records.

The Giants meet the Cards at New York next Sunday.

Bill Stafford Speaks At Jaycee Sport Night

The importance of learning how to lose was stressed by New York Yankee pitcher Bill Stafford of nearby Athens in a speech before Kingston Jaycee Little Leaguers and guests at the leagues Sport Night in the Kingston High school auditorium.

Stafford, who had a disastrous 4-8 record with the Yankees this year following a brilliant 1962 season, told the youngsters it was a simple matter to take victory in stride.

"But the true test of your character will be determined by the manner in which you react to defeat," he told his eager audience.

More than 500 persons heard Stafford's impressive speech. League president John Porsch was master of ceremonies and there were short speeches by Mayor John J. Schwenk and Little League District Representative Hubert Richter of Kingston.

Stafford's father, William Stafford, Sr., was also in the audience, along with several persons from the local sports world.

Stafford's father, William Stafford, Sr., was also in the audience, along with several persons from the local sports world.

Three Lucky Kids
Stafford pleased the youngsters with an informal drawing at which three Jaycees League youngsters were selected to attend a New York Yankee game next season as the guests of Stafford. The youngsters will be taken into the clubhouse after the game to meet the Yankee players.

Following an interesting question and answer period, Stafford assisted Porsch in distributing trophies to the 1963 league champions, the Hawks, who were managed by Paul (Sank) Mills. Trophies were also distributed to all boys who are "retiring" from the league, having reached the age limit.

The program concluded with the showing of Walt Disney's full-length film "Little League Moolie" which proved a smash hit with the youngsters.

Jacoby Sets Bridge Record

By Newspaper Enterprise

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss. (NEA)—Bridge expert Oswald Jacoby, whose column appears daily in The Kingston Daily Freeman, has set a new record for master points scored in one year.

Jacoby's total went to 1,011 during the Mid-South Regional Championship here last week. He thus set the new mark in a little over 10 months.

The previous record of 872 was made in 12 months.

Jacoby, whose daily column for Newspaper Enterprise Assn. is used in nearly 400 newspapers, made the recordbreaking a family affair. Playing with him at Edgewater Park were Mrs. Jacoby and their son, Jim, 30, the fourth member of the team was Paul Levitt, 24, of Sioux City, Iowa.

Jacoby for the past two years has won the McKinney Trophy awarded by the American Contract Bridge League for the most master points scored in a year. He seems a sure winner for the third straight time.

Jacoby's life-time total of mas-

Rochester Guild Is Willing to Strike

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Members of Rochester's American Newspaper Guild local Sunday night gave their executive committee authorization to call a strike against the city's two newspapers if the committee deemed a walkout necessary.

The action came after a 333-29 vote to reject a two-year contract proposed by the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle and the Rochester Times-Union. The local's negotiators had recommended that the membership accept the proposal.

The strike authorization vote was 40-6.

The union's two-year contract expired yesterday. The local represents editorial department staffers of the morning Democrat & Chronicle and the evening Times-Union. Both papers are members of the Gannett group.

The papers' contract proposal included a $7 weekly pay increase over two years for most editorial workers.

Accepts Nomination

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Gustavo Diaz Ordaz has accepted the presidential nomination of the Institutional Revolutionary party (PRI) and thus is almost certain to be elected president of Mexico next year.

The opposition party in Mexico is overshadowed by the long-dominant PRI.

Diaz Ordaz, 52, said he would carry on the policies of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. He resigned last week as interior minister.

Trygve Lie to Return

OSLO (AP) — Trygve Lie, former secretary-general of the United Nations, is expected to return to work as Norway's interior minister, Dec. 1, says Premier Einar Gerhardsen.

Lie, 67, has been ill since Oct. 21. He reportedly suffered a small blood clot.

Lie resigned the U.N. post in 1953 and had been politically inactive until last July 3, when he accepted the interior post in the Socialist government.

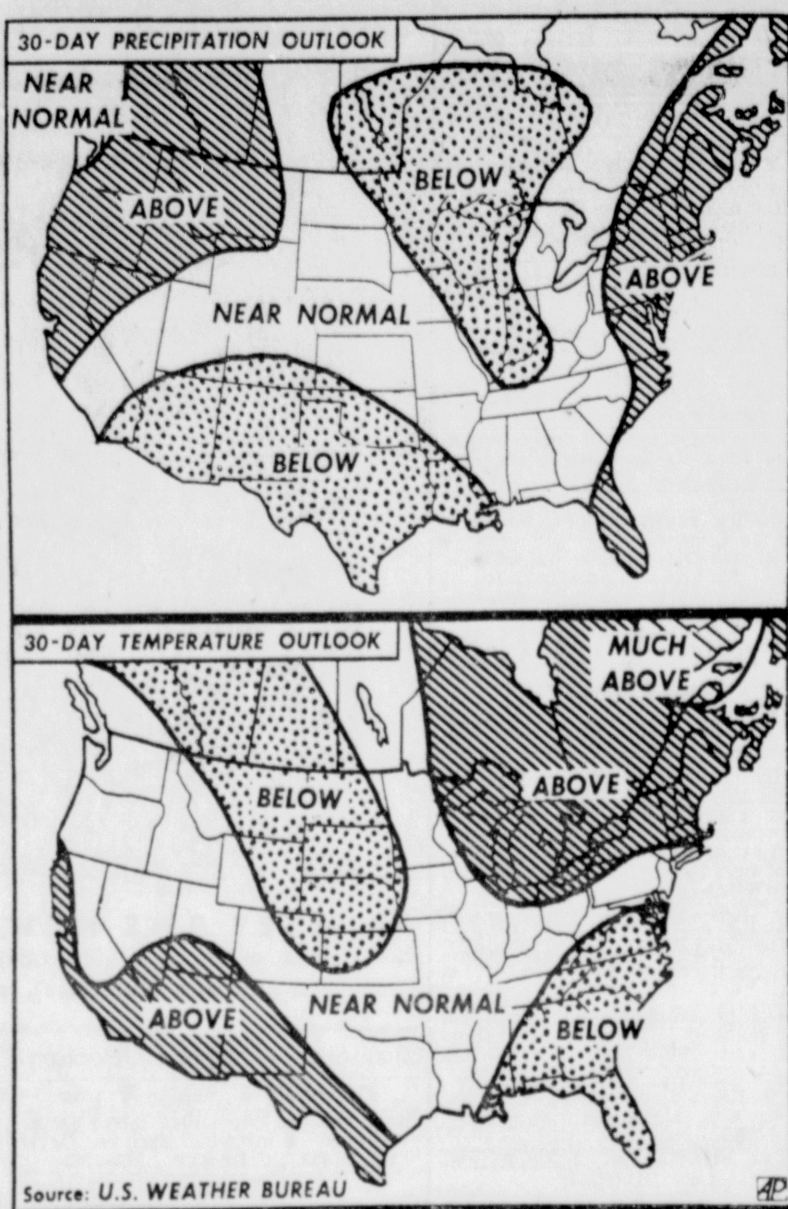

Returned to Camp

A 16-year-old youth was picked up Saturday evening by Officers Ralph Mayone and John Pavlak of the Saugerties police department, and detained until a counselor arrived from Camp Cass at Rensselaerville and returned the youth, Officer Edward Sweeney said. Thomas Thurston inquired the direction of Mayone and Pavlak and later police learned he was missing from the camp.

China Artist Dead

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Pu Hsin-yu, 67, one of Nationalist China's leading artists, died today after a long illness.

Pu, also known as Pu Ju, was a brother of Henry Pu Yi, last emperor of China. Pu escaped to Formosa in 1949 after the Communist occupation of Peking.

Fliers Body Is Found in Plane In Adirondacks

STONY CREEK, N.Y. (AP)—

Exactly three months after he was plucked from the ocean by Russian fishermen, Capt. Hugh A. Lavallee guided his jet fighter over the Adirondack Mountains. He pushed the F-86 through a cloud cover to clear the rugged peaks, then disappeared.

That was Saturday.

His remains were found Sunday in the wreckage of his Air National Guard plane, downed in a heavily wooded section of the Adirondacks, about 13 miles west of Stony Creek.

Lavallee, 29, of Springfield, Mass., apparently had no chance to parachute, an Air Force spokesman said.

The flight was a low-level navigational mission. The Air Force said Lavallee, father of two, had been instructed to fly over the Adirondacks before returning to his home base — Barnes Field, Westfield, Mass., headquarters of the 104th Tactical Fighter Group, Massachusetts Air National Guard.

Three months ago Saturday, Lavallee emerged unharmed with the help of Soviet fishermen — from an air emergency over the Atlantic.

On that occasion, his jet fighter became disabled, forcing him to bail out. He was pulled from the water by the crew of a Russian fishing trawler.

He had been flying with Lt. Col. William McClure, McClure, piloting another jet, said he lost contact with Lavallee after they had climbed above clouds over the mountains.

The crash occurred in one of the most rugged areas of the Adirondacks. Search parties traversed over a logging road to Harrisburg Lake, then continued six miles on foot to reach the wreckage.

Rockefellers Laugh At Rumors of Baby

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller have laughed off as rumors reports they are expecting a baby.

Columnist Betty Beale wrote in the Washington Sunday Star that there are rumors in Republican circles that Mrs. Rockefeller, whom the governor married earlier this year after both were divorced, was expecting.

When the Rockefellers arrived here Sunday night for a two-day social and political visit, Rockefeller, a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, was asked about the column.

"These rumors have been flying ever since we have been married," Rockefeller commented as both he and his wife laughed.

The governor has four living children by his first marriage. His wife also has four children by her first marriage.

More Buffoonery By Jewel Thieves Occurs in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) — With the city still laughing about Manhattan's comically-abortive gem robbery two weeks ago, another masterpiece of jewel theft buffoonery took place Sunday.

Unlike the misguided $3 million holdup of Nov. 8 in which the loot was left behind, two bandits escaped with $55,000 in gems Sunday. But the intruders found themselves overrun with hostages.

Toward the end, things got so crowded in the plush East Side apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gurian that the two badmen had all they could do to maintain order.

As a result, Gurian said, the thieves left behind more jewelry than they took.

Police estimated that the jewels left behind are worth $100,000. Gurian estimated his loss at $55,000.

The invaders, one carrying a bouquet as a ruse and the other a gun, collected an elevator operator and a delicatessen deliverman en route to the apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurian had just settled down to a wedding anniversary breakfast served by their maid. Mrs. Gurian rushed to a telephone and shouted "Help — Help" before it was slammed down by one bandit.

The call brought another elevator operator on the run. He was ushered into the apartment at gunpoint.

Sometime during the rapid-fire activity, the bandits managed to find the gems.

Their foraging was cut short, however, when Mrs. Gurian again broke loose and darted into the hall, the robbers in hot pursuit. They met headon with a doorman, and a brief scuffle ensued before the robbers broke away and scrambled down 12 flights of stairs to the street.

They commandeered a taxi-cab and forced the driver to take them several blocks away where one debarked. A few blocks beyond, the other robber left the cab. Neither bothered to pay the fare.

Mrs. Gurian, whose husband is a vice president of the Wall Street firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, summed up the episode: "It was like a Keystone Kops comedy."

The $3 million gem robbery two weeks ago failed when the driver of the loot car couldn't cop with the old-style floor gear shift and abandoned the vehicle and gems.

Parked Auto Hit

A 33-year-old Albany motorist was charged with a violation early Sunday after his car collided with a parked vehicle on Main Street, Woodstock, according to Kingston State Trooper Robert Houghtaling.

Robert Bohner, of 381 Myrtle Avenue, Albany, was charged with failing to change his address on a license, troopers reported. The car was traveling north on Main Street, Woodstock, when it struck a parked car owned by Donald Winans, Maverick Road, Woodstock according to a report of Troopers David Wachtel and Robert Mackey.

Racial Strife At-A-Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Helena, Ark.—Official of Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee says Negroes will seek to desegregate every facility in this town. Thirty-two persons were arrested Saturday during the first sit-ins ever staged here.

New York — Negro ministers in Brooklyn pledge to stage massive demonstrations if nothing is done to get more jobs for members of their race by next week.

Danville, Va. — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. plans to return and stage bigger demonstrations if necessary to obtain civil rights in Danville.

Jackson, Miss.—Ten persons — five of the ministers — are jailed for trying to lower racial barriers at four Methodist churches.

Williamston, N. C. — Arrangements made for release of nearly 50 persons jailed during downtown demonstrations. But seven white ministers from Massachusetts refuse to post bond and remain in their cells.

Hoosick Junction Has Sunday Rail Mishap

HOOSICK FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —

About 40 cars and 2 diesel units of a Boston and Maine Railroad train jumped the track Sunday night at Hoosick Junction, near the Vermont state line.

No injuries were reported. The train consisted of between 125 and 150 cars and four diesel units. Most of the cars were empty. Some carried paper and leather.

The train was en route to Mechanicville, N.Y., from Boston. The cause of the derailment was not determined immediately.
